

5 Children Found Dead in Cottage; Mother Dies Later

Gas Poisoning Believed Cause of Tragedy in North Oconto County

Townsend, Wis., —Five children, ranging in age from one to 10 years, were found dead and their mother in critical condition Friday night in their 1-room cottage in this north-eastern Wisconsin community. They apparently died from gas poisoning. The mother died at 9:30 a. m. today at a Laona hospital.

The dead are Mrs. Gloria Rovge, 32, Milwaukee, and her children Kathy, 10; Chris, 7; Cindy, 5; Kenny, 3, and Caroline, 1.

The bodies were found about 11 p. m. Friday night when Mrs. Kenneth Posselt of Townsend, and a babysitter, Sandy Sackett, called at the Rovge cottage on McClausin brook, seven miles northwest of here in Oconto county. Mrs. Posselt, a family friend, was to drive Mrs. Rovge to Townsend to join her husband, John, 44, who was driving up from Milwaukee to spend the weekend with his family.

Doors Locked
Mrs. Posselt told authorities that when they arrived at the cottage the lights were out and the doors were locked. She said she shined a flashlight through the window and saw the bodies on the floor.

Mrs. Posselt returned to Townsend to inform authorities and told her husband, Meanwhile, Rovge had arrived from Milwaukee.

Rovge and Posselt returned to the cottage, broke down the door and took the bodies outside.

Coroner Clarence McMahon said the children apparently died sometime Thursday night because they had been dead at least 24 hours when found.

Gas Poisoning
McMahon said there were indications they died of gas poisoning but he could not say what kind. The cottage used bottled gas for heat and light and had a combination coal and gas range for cooking. The bottled gas containers were empty. All the windows of the 1-room cottage were closed.

Authorities said the mother and one child were found in a bed, the baby, Caroline, in her crib, and the others on the floor.

The father, a steamfitter and welder, was working in Milwaukee during the week while his family vacationed at the cottage.

The bodies were taken to Boyle's funeral home at Waubesa.

Ike Returns to Golf Course as Rest Continues

Turnberry, Scotland — President Eisenhower today began another round of golf topping his first drive into the rough.

"My, my," he sighed, as he smilingly shook his head. The president followed two other players who did the same thing.

Standing on the first tee of the Turnberry course where he played yesterday, Eisenhower joked with his partners and a group of about 20 spectators and policemen.

The president is relaxing in Scotland until Monday after his 9-day mission of consultations with West European leaders on the eve of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's visit to the United States.

The sun was shining brightly as the foursome went to the tee.

Congress Faces Real Special Session Threat

Washington — Congress, already buffeted by presidential vetoes, faced the added threat today of recall to a special fall session to meet President Eisenhower's demand for authority to control interest rates on government bonds.

The special session possibility assumed solid proportions as result of yesterday's house action denying Eisenhower's urgent request for repeal of the 41 per cent legal limit on long-term bond interest rates.

E. C. Hilfert, Mill Executive, Dead at 72

Served Riverside As President; Head Of Vocational Board

Edward C. Hilfert, 72, of 832 W. Front street, president of Riverside Paper corporation and prominent in business, education and civic affairs in Appleton for 40 years, died at 6:05 p.m. Friday after a short illness.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Wichmann Funeral home, with the Rev. Adam Grill in charge. Burial will be in St. Mary cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 3 p. m. Sunday. An Ed Hilfert Memorial fund is being established for Appleton Memorial and St. Elizabeth hospitals.

Vocational Board
Hilfert, who would have been 73 Sept. 30, was born in Appleton and attended school here. His wife, the former Kathryn McDonough, whom he married in 1919, died in 1948. There were no children.

The current president of the Appleton Vocational school board of directors, he became a board member in late 1951, succeeding the late John Watson. He was elected president.

Fined for Being With White Girl

Savannah, Ga. — An air force master sergeant of alleged Negro blood has paid a $100 fine for being in company with a woman.

Sgt. George Agard, about 40, of nearby Hunter Air Force base, appeared white but police testified yesterday that his drivers license listed him as a Negro.

Police said he drank at a bar and later attended a white drive-in theater with Miss Norma K. Rikeman. She was freed of a disorderly conduct charge but was held for three days for a board of health examination.

Patrolman R. P. Barnes of county police testified that when Miss Rikeman was told Agard was a Negro, she covered her face with her hands and cried, "Oh, my God."

Julius Fine, attorney for Miss Rikeman, contended Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook of Georgia ruled recently that it was not contrary to state law for a white person to be associated with a Negro in a public place.

The Post-Crescent will not publish Monday, Labor day.

'Only One I've Got'

Girl, 10, Saves Life Of Her Infant Sister

St. Paul, Minn. — "After all, Joyce is the only baby sister I've got, I simply had to do something."

Linda Kay Gibson, 10, had only this simple explanation for the mouth-to-mouth respiration that police and the family doctor credited with breathing life back into the tiny body of her 2-year-old sister.

High Fever
Joyce, ill with a high fever, suddenly went limp and stopped breathing after a convulsion in the family's suburban Maplewood home.

"Right away mother was frantic, on the telephone trying to get the doctor and the police—and, well, I just had to do something," Linda Kay said matter-of-factly yesterday.

What she did was to start forcing her own breath into the baby's mouth. She kept on for about 5 or 10 minutes.

"Once in a while Joyce would sort of gasp a little and stop breathing again—I was half crying but I kept at it," said Linda Kay.

When police and the doctor did arrive, Joyce was breathing regularly again.

"They said I did good," Linda Kay happily reported.

"I remembered reading in the newspaper how one kid saved another kid's life by breathing in his mouth," she continued. "So I thought it might work with Joyce."

UN Ready to Deal With Laos' Appeal for Aid Against Reds

Security Council May be Called Into Emergency Session Monday

United Nations, N. Y. — Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld hurried home from South America today to deal with Laos' appeal for a UN task force to stop any aggression from communist North Viet Nam.

Diplomats expected the 11-nation security council to be called into an emergency session Monday, but predicted Soviet Union would veto any UN intervention into the fighting in the southeast Asian kingdom.

Emergency Session
In the event of a Soviet veto in the council any seven members of the council can call an emergency session of the 82-nation assembly within 24 hours.

The feeling is that the assembly would approve help to the hard-pressed Buddhist kingdom.

Meanwhile, diplomats representing the anti-communist Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) met in Washington last night. A statement issued afterward emphasized that Laos is "within the region of direct interest of SEATO."

Laos is not a member of SEATO but the anti-communist organization regards the Asian kingdom as under its protection.

It was understood that there was no substantial discussion of intervention by SEATO while the Laos appeal rests before the UN.

The United States is rushing aid to strengthen Laos' military defenses. A C47 transport plane was handed over yesterday — the first of six aircraft promised under the American aid program.

Girl, 18, Killed by 'Safe' Revolver Trick

Baltimore, Md. — Patricia Stillwell, 18, was showing her girl friend yesterday a "safe" trick with a revolver. She removed five of the six bullets from a gun owned by her uncle.

"I can pull the trigger five times now without getting hurt," she told 14-year-old Brenda Stringer.

Three times, Patricia, put the gun to her temple and pulled the trigger. "See, it's safe," she said, after three clicks.

The fourth time, the gun went off. Patricia died in Maryland General hospital.

Nikita Will Visit China

Khrushchev Says He'll Travel to Peiping Sept. 29

Moscow — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev is heading for Peiping the day after he returns from his U.S. visit.

The Soviet leader said yesterday he would go to the red Chinese capital Sept. 29. He did not discuss the purpose for the trip but it was clear he intends to brief communist China's government on his talks with President Eisenhower.

(Red China has officially approved of the talks but western diplomats have said they believed China felt left out when the exchange of visits was announced. The diplomats said the Chinese may feel any easing of U.S.-Soviet tensions could damage her own position with Moscow.)

Khrushchev made the surprise announcement during conversations with Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz of Poland and other officials at a reception opening the Polish industrial exhibition here.

Fair Weather Plus Long Weekend Lure Thousands To State for Labor Day

Fox Cities residents joined thousands of other motorists jamming Wisconsin highways today at the start of the final holiday period of the summer season.

The weatherman cooperated bringing fair skies today and the promise of more sunshine with some scattered showers possibly by Monday.

But casting a tragic pall over the otherwise gay activities was a steadily mounting highway death toll.

A last summer's outing found the highways, buses, airlines and trains crowded, with travelers as the summer vacation season drew to a close.

Highway 41 through the Fox river valley began to feel the brunt of heavy traffic Friday evening. Early this morning cars were streaming up the major traffic artery to the north at a nearly bumper-to-bumper rate.

A 19-year-old Columbia County youth became Wisconsin's first traffic fatality of the long weekend. Marvin L. Gunnison, 19, route 2, Rio, was killed early this morning when the car in which he was riding and another vehicle collided on Highway 16 in Rio.

The National Safety Council estimated that heavy travel on the highways might kill 450 motorists and pedestrians during the peak driving period beginning at 6 p.m. Friday and closing midnight Monday in all time zones.

Corresponding Period
By comparison, only 307 persons died in motor crashes throughout the nation in a corresponding 78-hour period of a nonholiday weekend two weeks ago. That weekend was surveyed by the Associated Press to reach a figure against which to gauge the impact of holiday traffic.

The first reported traffic fatality of the current holiday period was recorded at North Reading, Mass., late yesterday where a woman was killed in an automobile-truck collision.

Four marines en route home for the holiday were killed when their car collided head-on with a tractor-trailer near Warrenton, Va.

They had been stationed at the Beaufort, S.C., marine air station.

Another head-on collision of a truck and automobile killed three occupants of the car near Point Pleasant, W. Va. The truck driver was injured.

Worst in History
The council has estimated that the traffic toll may reach 450 in the period that began at 6 p.m. local time Friday and will end at midnight Monday.

From the fatality standpoint 1951's Labor Day weekend was the worst in history. Then 652 persons died in traffic, drownings and other accidents such as plane crashes, fires and accidents in homes and on farms.

New Military Czar Emerges

Argentine Leader Bows to Power of Ousted General

Buenos Aires, Argentina — Gen. Carlos Toranzo Montero emerged today as Argentina's military czar after President Arturo Frondizi bowed to army demands.

Reinstated as commander in chief, Toranzo Montero began planning a reshuffle in the nation's top military echelons. He did not disclose his plans, but it is certain that officers who lost out in the near rebellion will be replaced by generals to his liking.

Toranzo Montero's reappearance was followed by the resignation of War Secretary Elvio Anaya the man who fired him in a dispute over army promotion policy.

Close Friend
Anaya was succeeded by Gen. Rodolfo Larcher, a close friend of the commander in chief.

Toranzo Montero said the crisis was strictly military, and not political. He said he would order only "normal measures" and that a few military leaders will be retained.

After reinstating Toranzo Montero last night, Frondizi refused to discuss the situation with reporters.

The army chief freed four generals and a colonel who had been among 17 officers arrested on Anaya's orders in the wake of Toranzo Montero's ouster.

U. S. Exhibition in Moscow Closes Doors After 43-Day Show

Moscow — Thousands of Russians waiting to get a glimpse of American life were disappointed last night when the first U. S. exhibition in Moscow closed its gates before they could get in.

But 140,000 other Muscovites made the final day, U. S. officials said it was the biggest daily crowd since America opened its popular display of capitalist accomplishments 43 days ago.

The exhibition, which was the scene of the famous Khrushchev-Nixon kitchen debate, was termed a success by the Soviet news agency Tass which said more than two million visited the show. A U. S. official said 2,700,000 Russians attended.

Warmer, but Chance Rain Will Miss Us

Wisconsin — Mostly sunny south and partly cloudy north today and Sunday, with chance of a few scattered thundershowers in extreme west and north portion. Warmer tonight and little change in temperature Sunday. Chance of scattered thundershowers in central portion Monday.

Appleton — Temperature for 24-hour period ending at 9 a.m. today: High 83, low 66. Temperature at 9 a.m. 74 with discomfort index at 71. Barometric reading at 30.07 with winds from the south at 14 miles per hour. Pollen count, 112.

Sun sets at 7:24 p.m., rises Sunday at 6:21 a.m.; moon sets Sunday at 8:30 p.m. Prominent stars are Spica and Sirius. Visible planets are Jupiter and Saturn.

Question Former Convict

Hope Diminishing 'By the Hour' for Life of Missing Michigan Trooper

East Lansing, Mich. — Capt. Thomas Grant of the state police said today that the chances of finding a mysteriously missing state trooper alive "are diminishing by the hour."

The ex-convict he had set out to question when he vanished two days ago had shed no light on the disappearance of 29-year-old Trooper Albert Souden and Capt. Grant said: "We have found nothing to disprove his story."

Refused Test
"Our big problem now," Grant said, "is finding out if he's still alive."

A posse of scores of state police and sheriff's deputies were ready to take up anew the wide and intensive search they called off at nightfall yesterday.

Grant said the man held in Souden's disappearance refused a lie detector test last night and would be questioned today.

Alvin W. Knight, 48-year-old ex-convict and one-time mental patient, was rushed here for questioning after his arrest at a woodland cabin in northern Michigan yesterday. Souden disappeared outside downstate Howell.

Knight was seized as he lay in bed. The missing trooper's gun was found in his belt.

Knight denied knowledge of Souden's disappearance, but police said they also found in the cabin a note addressed to Knight's mother, saying he would be gone for a few days, that police were after him and were checking his car.

Souden's distraught 23-year-old wife, Clara, waited through the night in the couple's modest ranch home in Brighton, asking "Why can't they find him?" "Don't they know we need him here?"

"Have you ever had icicles around your heart," she asked as she cuddled her 7-month-old son, Edward. "If you haven't you don't know how I feel."

Find Shovel
Knight was questioned about a shovel found in the cabin. He denied having used it, and said he bought the gun from a hitchhiker he gave a ride.

The hunt for Souden was concentrated in Livingston county, about 180 miles from the cottage where Knight was taken.

The state police car driven by Souden on a routine assignment to question Knight about a $75 robbery was found abandoned yesterday on a river bank near Knight's home outside Howell.

Three Youths Booked at Coney Island, Brooklyn, police station Friday for beating and robbing an old man appear to find the situation far from serious. Handcuffed Thomas Baldwin, 16, left, laughs as Vincent Ferrovicchio, 20, back to the camera, leans his manacled hand on a rail. James Osgood, 16, right, chained to Ferrovicchio, also laughs. They are accused of beating Harry Gardner, 74, New Rochelle, N. Y., and robbing him of $15 as he sat on a boardwalk in the early morning hours seeking relief from the heat.

Daredevils Of Air Will Show Monday

Jaycees Sponsor Labor Day Event Of Stunts, Thrills

Fun in the sky is a Labor day "special events" highlight for Fox Cities residents as the Appleton Junior Chamber of Commerce winds up plans for its 2-hour air show starting at 2:30 p.m. Monday at the Outagamie county airport. (Gates open at 11 o'clock) with Jaycee-operated concessions at noon.

A galaxy of flying stars has been signed for the show. Among them are Ray Henry, Veteran air show stunt pilot, who formerly operated his own air show and who will fly his specially built 450 Wasp Stearman, which he has converted into a stunt ship.

Ace sky maneuvering fliers, Sky King and his Flying Daredevils, who advertise that they fly "with one foot on a cloud," also will appear. Such conventional stunts as loops, Immelman turns, snap rolls, slow rolls, barrel rolls, Clark rolls, regular and inverted spins are planned, as well as a few of the daredevils' own embellishments — wing-walking, a trapeze act from a low-flying plane and picking up a handkerchief from the ground and the heart-stopping "head-on snap roll."

In that stunt, two planes fly head-on toward each other, and seconds before the impact, one snap-rolls to the right and the other to the left.

Parachute Jump

A Korean war veteran, Don Magnus, will make a sky dive parachute jump—his 201st. He was a war-time paratrooper with a long record of combat jumps as well as service with forest rangers to his credit. Major Arthur J. Davis, East Lansing, Mich., one of the nation's best-known stunt pilots, is scheduled to appear. A racing pilot as well as stuntster, he has participated in more air shows from coast to coast than any other pilot. In racing he's won over 300 first prizes. He uses a specially built Waco stunt ship equipped with a smoke device which traces patterns in the sky as he flies.

Howard Libersky, who came out of retirement to join the Sky Kings show, has a reputation as an aerial daredevil. He runs along the ground, grasps a ladder dangling from a low-flying plane and climbs to the cockpit; he makes an auto-to-plane transfer and performs on a plane wing.

On display will be a replica of the Explorer II satellite circling the earth at 18,000 miles per hour.

More than 10,000 spectators can be accommodated. Parking will not be allowed on any road surrounding the airport, Jaycees said.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

The Power of Faith has been recognized by the Texas Medical Center in Houston through its establishment of an Institute of Religion. There ministerial students are trained to become part of a health team, including the physician, psychiatrist, minister . . .

As chaplain interns, they learn to work with people of all denominations and walks of life. They make no attempt to cram doctrine down a patient's throat. They gain practical preparation for the many situations they will face in their future pastorates. Their faith is reinforced with knowledge and experience, and the understanding of what the medical specialist is trying to accomplish.

Not only ministerial students and ministers attend the Institute, but medical students, nurses and doctors who learn the importance of faith to well being, the role of the pastor on a healing team, and the resources the church has to offer to aid them in their practice. A former president of the American Medical Association, Elmer Hess, M.D., tells me:

"Sometimes what we need most in the sickroom is not the medicine that we prescribe. It is the faith and hope that we can instill in our patients. I don't care whether you are a Catholic, a Protestant or a Jew, just as long as you believe in a Power greater than all the instruments of science at your command."

CHURCH OF THE OPEN BIBLE, 285 E. Lawrence street (Castle hall), stamped envelope with your request for it.) Once the vine is started up by being pinned in place, future growth will scramble up unassisted.

When the vine gets too long, it can be trained back down the stick, or the upper portion may be cut off and rooted in water to form another plant. Do visit your nearby plant counter soon and see all the syngoniums they offer; one or two vases of these may be just what your home needs to give it a cool look for the "dog days" of early autumn.

Can you suggest a good orchid for a beginner? I would suggest epiden-drums. These small-flowered, spray type orchids are about as durable as any plant I know.

Several of us (school-teachers) used your column last year on interesting plants for children with great success. I hope you have another column like it this year.

We don't have one planned, but since you will be having different children, why not use last year's over again? Besides the tree-imb sections from the Everglades, don't forget leaves from the Air-Plant (Kalanchoe pinnata) which will root and form plantlets at the notches, if pinned on the window frame, or have the children root cuttings of wax begonias or African violet leaves. Or germinate big seeds, like those of peas, beans or lentils, that will grow fast.

Some of my vines have a gritty substance on the backs of the leaves. What is this, and how can I get rid of it? This sounds like red spider mites. You can dispose of them by directing a forceful stream of water onto the reverses of the leaves, or by using an insecticide designed for use on house plants.

Katherine Walker will be glad to answer questions pertaining to house plants, but regrets she will be unable to answer those dealing with outdoor varieties.

48 Board North Central During Week

North Central airlines flights carried 48 people from the Outagamie county airport and brought 37 to the Fox Cities in the week ended Thursday. The total is about average.

Two flights were cancelled Aug. 29 because of weather conditions. The radio homing system which is to be installed will cut such cancellations, Robert Meyer, station manager, says. The equipment is at the port and is expected to be in operation shortly.

Other totals carried by the airline include 88 pounds of airmail sent, 230 received, 119 pounds of air freight sent, 265 received; and 101 pounds of air express sent, 174 received.

Dr. Benjamin Fine and His wife, Lillian, pose with a copy of their new book, "How to Get the Best Education for Your Child," which has been condensed into a series of 15-articles for Appleton Post-Crescent readers. He is former education editor for the New York Times and a Pulitzer prize winner.

Parents May Benefit From Series on Education

Every conscientious parent and every public spirited citizen will want to read the important series on education which starts Tuesday in the Appleton Post-Crescent.

Condensed from the new book, "How to Get the Best Education for Your Child," by Dr. Benjamin Fine and his wife, Lillian Fine, both eminent educators, the series comes to grips with everyday problems that any parent encounters in getting the best education for their children. Dr. Fine thrashes out such problems as overcrowding, teacher shortages and conflicting theories.

His controversial answers are sure to be discussed. Dr. Fine's book has already attracted critical acclaim. Says the Saturday Review of Literature, "It will certainly take its place on that small shelf of precious volumes no home can afford to be without. Amid the snarling, moaning and carping works that have battered the reading public on 'educational subjects' during the past decade, their study is happily inique."

For 17 years, until 1958, Dr. Fine was education editor of the New York Times. He has written a series of articles on the teaching of history that won a Pulitzer prize for the Times. Author of a dozen books and many magazine articles, he is now Dean of the graduate school of education at Yeshiva university. He has taught or lectured at eight colleges and universities.

Auto Passenger Charged With Disorderly Conduct Ruling

Waupaca — Justice of the Peace George Whalen has taken under consideration what actually constitutes disorderly conduct.

The question was raised Friday when Harlen Olson, 24, Scandinavia, appeared before him to answer charges resulting from a police chase of a car in which Olson was a passenger.

The driver, James A. Clumpher, 23, Ogdensburg, pleaded guilty of reckless driving and was fined $50. Additional charges of failing to stop for a stop sign and failing to yield the right of way at an intersection were dismissed.

Manawa Police Chief Rodney Taubel arrested the pair Aug. 15 after the chase during which Taubel fired into the air to help halt the car.

He charged Olson with disorderly conduct because he contended Clumpher was driving Olson's car and the passenger could have ended the chase by turning off the ignition key.

Olson's attorney contended there was no disorderly conduct since Olson was just sitting still and further challenging the arrest on the grounds the ordinance under which it was made was not established as being in effect at the time.

Justice Whalen will give a decision at 10 a. m. Tuesday.

Two Appleton Men Win UW-M Degrees

Robert G. Sauter, 500 S. Christine street, and Ewald A. Tilly, 1813 N. Harriman street, Appleton, were among 136 August graduates of the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

Both received master of science degrees in education.

2 Sentenced To Jail on Theft Counts

Chilton — Two men have been sentenced to terms in the county jail and a Kaukauna juvenile was implicated in a series of thefts in Calumet county.

Sheriff C. J. Kosmosky said today Winfred Rosenthal, 16, route 2, Kaukauna, was sentenced to 60 days in jail and Herbert Bernard, 28, route 1, Chilton, was sentenced to 15 days.

County welfare department personnel are investigating the Kaukauna youth prior to an appearance in juvenile court here.

The sheriff said the three were arrested Thursday in connection with a breakin at a rural school a mile west of Brandt in the town of Chilton and the theft of oats from a nearby farmer.

Rosenthal and the youth admitted breaking into the school several times in the last month and a half. Bernard was implicated only in the oat theft, in which the other two also participated. The trio attempted to sell the oats in Chilton.

Two Motorists Forfeit At Neenah Station

Neenah — Two motorists forfeited fines at the Neenah police station today for traffic violations. John W. Kasparek, 26, 1211 N. Richmond street, Appleton, forfeited $14.20 for speeding 42 miles an hour on Main street. He was arrested at 12:55 a. m. Friday.

Donald Feagles, 31, 628 Kaukauna street, Menasha, forfeited $9.20 for improper registration. He was arrested Aug. 18 at E. Forest and N. Commercial street.

Is Success Important to You?

(or someone close to you)

You're in a good spot to move up to a better job and higher pay if you know your business. You're in an even better spot if, in addition, you also know the techniques of getting along with people.

Today, management puts special value on human relations skills in picking its key men. They want you to have the ability to lead instead of drive; to sell yourself and your ideas; to create and sustain enthusiasm for the job; to think, decide, act with confidence in any situation. One of the basic objectives of Dale Carnegie training is to develop these abilities in men and women who are reaching for better living. Why not find out what it can do for you?

10 Ways This Course Will Benefit Men and Women

1. Increase Poise and Confidence
2. Speak Effectively
3. Sell Yourself and Your Ideas
4. Do Your Best With Any Group
5. Remember Names
6. Think and Speak on Your Feet
7. Control Fear and Worry
8. Be a Better Conversationalist
9. Develop Your Hidden Abilities
10. Earn That Better Job, More Income

Some of my vines have a gritty substance on the backs of the leaves. What is this, and how can I get rid of it? This sounds like red spider mites. You can dispose of them by directing a forceful stream of water onto the reverses of the leaves, or by using an insecticide designed for use on house plants.

Katherine Walker will be glad to answer questions pertaining to house plants, but regrets she will be unable to answer those dealing with outdoor varieties.

Directions Tell How to Cut Paper Stars With One Slash

BY CAPPY DICK

It's fun to fold ordinary tablet paper and with one slash of the scissors cut it so when the paper is opened it will be a perfect star. Today's fun-project directions tell how to produce stars with four, six, eight or 12 points.

Try the 4-point star first. Fold the paper double, then fold it where the dotted line appears in Figure 1, producing a piece that looks like Figure 2. Next, fold the 2-fold side of the paper upward so it is even with the single-fold edge. It will now look like Figure 3. Unless the paper originally was square there will be a small strip of excess paper along the top that is only half as thick as the rest.

With scissors, make a straight cut through the paper between the points marked "A-B" in Figure 3. Open the paper and you will find you have cut a perfect 4-point star.

To make an 8-point star, fold the paper the same way, then make the two straight cuts shown by the dotted lines in Figure 5 — one cut from "A" to "B" and the other from "A" to "C".

For a 6-pointed star, fold the paper as shown in Figures 1, 2 and 3, then fold it twice as shown by the dotted lines in Figure 6. This will produce a paper shaped as in Figure 7. Cut along the dotted line marked "A-B" in Figure 7. A 12-point star is made by folding the paper once more and making the same cut as for the 6-point star.

A handsome ornament like that in Figure 4 is made from several 4-pointed stars. Cut them from construction paper or foil paper of different colors. Paste one star on a sheet of black paper, then paste the others on top of the first one. (Copyright, 1959)

Church Club Aids Funds

Men's Group Donates Money for Families Of Crash, Fall Victims

New London — The Men's club of Emanuel Lutheran church Thursday night donated $25 to the Hoagland family fund and another $25 for the Arnold Hedtke family.

Eight Hoagland children were orphaned Sunday when their mother and a brother and a sister died in New London's worst traffic accident. The fund is to provide for future needs of the family.

Hedtke was injured last spring when he fell while working on the new Prange building at Appleton.

Ernst Gehrke and Erwin Gorges reported on the Wolf River council of Men's clubs meeting at Clintonville. Alie Eisner, John Sanders, Henry Dobberstein and Harold Tank were appointed to help members of the Ladies Aid society who will sponsor the annual mission festival dinner, Sept. 13, at the church parlors.

Don Smith, Waupaca, county civil defense coordinator, showed movies on defense against atomic bombs and effects of radiation exposure and medical treatment.

Youth Fined $60 After Battle With Bartender

Thomas Ernst, 20, of 1933 N. Clark street, Friday was fined $35 for disorderly conduct and $25 for being in a tavern about 12:10 a.m. Aug. 28.

Police told Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiegke that Ernst was arrested after Harland Abel, 42, of 3273 W. Wisconsin avenue, bartender at the Maritime tavern, 330 W. Wisconsin, called them to his fight.

Abel had asked Ernst to stop his attentions to a woman customer, and Ernst jumped over the bar and bent Abel about the head with a whiskey bottle, police were told. Ernst also tossed bar stools around the tavern, police said.

An assault complaint against Ernst was dropped upon request of Dist. Atty. George Greisch. Abel refused to press charges.

POST-CRESCENT News of the Twin Cities Menasha - Neenah

Highway 41 Bypass Around Neenah May Open Soon

Work May be Completed
By End of September

Oshkosh — Motorists may be using the Neenah bypass on highway 41 by the end of this month if construction progress continues at its present pace, Leon Morrissey, county highway commissioner said.

The 4-lane section from lake Buttes des Morts south to highway 26, the Waupun road, was opened Tuesday along with the various interchanges for highway 26 and 44 and county trunk K.

Some work still remains to be done on the ramp roads and service roads paralleling the 4-lane stretch.

Work is underway also on the ramp roads along the Neenah bypass and the section from Neenah north to the Outagamie county line. It is hoped that this stretch may be open by the end of this month, giving motorists a complete 4-lane section from Cecil street at the south end of Neenah north to highway 10 west of Appleton.

Begin in 1957
This project has been underway for almost two years starting late in 1957 with the construction of the traffic interchanges.

Also nearing completion is the grade separation which carries highway 41 over highway 45 at Brooks corner. One lane already is paved and crews are paving the other lane now. The only 2-lane section on highway 41 north of highway 26 will be the stretch between highway 45 and Cecil street and this work is planned within the next several years. A starting date for this part has not been announced.

Morrissey indicated the blacktop pad will be laid on county trunk BP in the town of Menasha, known as the old Manitowoc road, next week. The road is being widened to a 22-foot pad with a 3-foot shoulder on each side.

Board Votes to Buy Bleachers

Winneconne High
To Use Money Set
Aside for Lights

Winneconne — Purchase of bleachers for the football field at a cost not to exceed $2,100 was authorized by the school board at a recent meeting. The board will use $1,757 from the football lights fund in its student activities account and the balance from other student activity funds.

The board also approved purchase of a portable science laboratory unit, an office computing machine, sewing machine, a movie projector and a vacuum cleaner.

Miss Margaret Wentzel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Wentzel, route 1, Winneconne, has been named to the dean's scholastic honor roll at Stout State college where she has completed her freshman year in home economics.

Teaching Position
Miss Mary Korn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Korn, will leave Sunday for Milwaukee where she will teach speech and English in St. Joan Antida school. She was graduated from Mount Mary college in June.

Members of the Women's organization of the Presbyterian church served a luncheon to 95 county school teachers at the church dining hall Thursday and then held a meeting in the evening at which a filmstrip "The Broken Mask" was shown. Mrs. Allen Luce was in charge of refreshments for the evening meeting and Mrs. Jennie Jacobson had charge of the noon dinner.

Azro Young Relief corp met Thursday at the village hall and decided to have a sunshine dinner and card party Oct. 1. Hostesses were Mrs. Bert Abel and Mrs. Frank Mongan.

Neenah Man Held
On Conduct Charge

Neenah — An elderly Neenah man, Arthur B. Westphal, 70, 129 N. Lake street, is being held at the Winnebago county jail until Tuesday when he will be arraigned on a charge of taking indecent liberties with a 10-year-old Neenah boy. The alleged offense occurred about 3 p.m. Thursday on E. Wisconsin avenue.

Westphal was arrested about 8:45 p.m. Thursday at his residence by Neenah police from a description of the man furnished them by the boy.

Registration

Menasha — Prin. L. A. Wengenberger of Menasha High school today asked all students who were away from the city during regular registration days this week to register and pay their fees between 1 and 3 p.m. Tuesday or Wednesday.

Masses Sunday at St. Mary Catholic church will be at 6:30, 8 and 9:30 a.m., according to the Rev. V. J. Kaudy. Daily masses will be at 7:30 a.m.

Dismisses Charges Against 3 Youths

Neenah — Disorderly conduct charges against three 18-year old boys, James E. Ely, 616 Western avenue, James Lenz, 615 Western avenue, and Charles E. Barnstable, 514 S. Lake street, were dismissed by Police Justice E. P. Arpin Thursday after he reprimanded the three boys and a 17-year-old companion for their actions.

The boys were arrested Wednesday noon after they filled balloons with water and then threw them at each other inside the Brehm Shopette at 503 S. Lake street.

It has been a good growing year for the sunflowers in the backyard garden of Edwin Tratz, 347 Oak street, Neenah. They have stretched out to a height of 12 feet and tower high above Mr. Tratz.

Winneconne Lists School Open Plan

7th Through 12th
Grades Meet Today;
Others on Tuesday

Winneconne — Classes began on a reduced schedule today for Winneconne high school and junior high school students and will begin Tuesday for the grade school pupils. Teachers meetings were held Wednesday and Thursday with general assemblies and a faculty-school board reception.

Students in the seventh through twelfth grades had classes Friday morning. The program included a general assembly, assigning of lockers, distribution of textbooks and collection of fees.

Junior high pupils paid a $2 activity fee and those in the high school are paying a $3 fee. The activity fee was raised to $3 because of the addition of several lyceum programs. This fee includes $6 worth of games and programs, including 13 athletic events, five lyceum programs a musical concert and a school play.

The high school students also pay a $1 towel fee while the junior high pupils pay a 50 cent towel fee and $1.10 for a magazine.

Pupils in grades one through six will report at 8:35 a.m. Tuesday. All first graders at the central school will report to the annex to Miss Marjorie Dowling's room and the second graders will go to Mrs. Marge Unser's room at the central school for assignment to rooms.

Those in grades three through six will go to a room marked with their grade number and will be directed to their rooms. They are to bring 50 cents for a weekly magazine and $1 if they wish to have lunch at school during the first week.

In the central school kindergarten those children whose last names begin with letters A through M inclusive are to report to the annex Tuesday. On Wednesday, all children will attend kindergarten.

Families who are new to the district should register their children before Tuesday if possible so that transportation and room assignments may be arranged.

Boy Slightly Hurt In Collision With Car

Neenah — Paul Sewall, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon K. Sewall, 410 W. North Water street, received a bruised forehead when he and a car driven by Mrs. Hugh Strange, Sr., 117 N. Park avenue, collided at the N. Commercial and Wisconsin avenue intersection at 12:57 p.m. Wednesday.

The boy was walking in the north crosswalk and Mrs. Strange, who had stopped to let two women pass, did not see the boy as she completed her turn. The boy was knocked down by the right front fender of the car.

Watch for Children Motorists Warned

Menasha — City police today warned motorists to watch for children going back to school — on foot, bicycles or in cars and buses.

In school zones, while children are present, the speed limit is 15 m.p.h. Children police say, often are preoccupied, excited or unaware. Their lack of attention must be compensated for by drivers.

Cars also must stop for school buses loading or unloading. Flashing red lights indicate bus doors are open.

Library Hours

Menasha — Elisha D. Smith public library will observe its normal hours beginning Tuesday until next summer. The library will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays.

The children's library room will be open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily except Sunday. The library will be closed Monday, Labor day.

Menasha's Water Street Curb-Gutter project is coming along well, with completion expected in the next two weeks. To keep the workmen from getting thirsty, Gregory Kluba and Mary Waters brought out a pitcher of cold water and a glass. The work is being done by Henry Verbruggen and son, Little Chute contractor.

Parolee Admits Two Jewelry Store Thefts

Oshkosh Man Confesses Taking
$2,269 in Diamond Rings, Watches

Oshkosh — A 37-year-old parolee confessed to Oshkosh police Friday his burglarizing of two jewelry stores and several minor breakins. He was arrested Tuesday night by Fond du Lac police after one successful jewelry store burglary and one unsuccessful one which led to his capture. Police identified him as Kendall Collins, who has been living in Oshkosh since being granted parole several years ago. He had been sentenced in Milwaukee in 1952 for assault with intent to murder and larceny after he shot a policeman in the foot. The policeman had surprised him while Collins was looting automobiles in a parking lot.

Collins Friday admitted he had stolen $1,560 in diamond rings and watches from the Anger jewelry store at 917 Oregon street and $709 in rings and watches from the Anger jewelry store on Main street early in the morning of July 13. He had broken and removed a section of glass from the display windows at both stores to get the jewelry.

Minor Breakins
Collins also admitted three other breakins Monday and Tuesday in which a total of $33 was taken and the theft of a $44 pistol from a sporting goods store July 30.

He is charged with taking $1,000 in rings and watches from the Gysber Jewelry store in Fond du Lac by breaking a display window Tuesday night. Police said he was scared away from burglarizing the Davis Jewelry store there when the window he was cutting fell and broke.

The noise attracted persons in the area and one of them, an 18-year-old Campbells youth, followed him and summoned police. Nothing was found on his person when arrested.

Name Neenah Woman
To National Office
At VFW Convention

Neenah — Mrs. William Campbell, 579 Oak street, was unanimously elected to the post of national conductress at the national convention of Veterans of Foreign Wars ladies auxiliaries in Los Angeles, Calif., Friday.

The Neenah resident served as national guard during the past year and is the first Wisconsin woman to be elected to a national office in the organization. She has served in national appointive posts, state offices and in Hubbard-Peterson VFW auxiliary of Oshkosh.

She is a former state auxiliary president and is the charter president of Nicolet VFW auxiliary.

Physicians to Vote
On New Constitution

Oshkosh — Members of the Winnebago County Medical society will act on its new constitution when it meets at 6:30 p.m. Thursday at the American Legion club in Oshkosh.

Jitter's Gain 9-0 Open Tourney Win

Brinkman Allows 2 Hits in Triumph Over Red Arrow;
Gay Spot Downs Wertsch's

Menasha—A 2-hitter by Cliff Brinkman paced Jitter and Joe's to a 9-0 win over Red Arrow club of Sheboygan in the Twin City Open Softball tournament Friday night at Jefferson park.

Gay Spot of Appleton upset Wertsch Ramblers of Oshkosh 2-0 in the second contest.

Jitter's and Gay spot will vie in the first semi-final game at 2 p.m. Sunday. Tonight, Owl Tavern of Neenah and Lom's Bar of Green Bay will play at 7 p.m. and Subway of Appleton faces Pizza Parlor of Oshkosh at 8 p.m.

Sunday Schedule
Tonight's winners meet in Sunday's second semi-final. The afternoon losers will vie for consolation honors at 7 p.m. Sunday and the winners will collide for the championship about 8:15.

Jitter's defeated Sheboygan stranded six. Patterson walked one, struck out six and his mates erred twice.

Five trophies donated by Twin City merchants and businessmen will be awarded Sunday night. Donors include Hewitt Transmission, first place; Courtney-Plummer, third place; Pond's Sports, Appleton, fourth place; Meyer Corporation, and Smith-Talbot, clocks, for most valuable player and most valuable pitcher.

by the same score as in the Memorial day meet. At that time, Fred Fuller hurled a no-hitter.

Brinkman gave up a single to Don Guske in the second inning and a one-baser to Lee Grosskopf in the fourth. Red Arrow didn't get a runner as far as third. The Menasha pitcher had four strikeouts and walked only two.

Hit's Grand Slam
Jitter's scored twice in the first inning and never was in danger. The winners put the game in the deep freeze with six runs in the fourth, featured by Bob Briceco's grand slam homer.

Singles by Dick Olson and Carl Springer, a sacrifice and an error on a dropped fly ball in the outfield produced two runs in the first. An error, a walk and an infield out brought one home in the fourth.

Earl Gregorius led off the fourth with a homer. An error, Dick Olson's double and two walks accounted for another run and then Briceco brought home four with one swipe of the bat.

The winners made seven hits off Wally Gartman. Jack Hogan, who pitched the last two innings, didn't give up any. The Sheboygan pitchers were the victims of some shoddy support.

Win on 2 Hits
The Gay Spot-Wertsch game was one of the best of this or any tournament. The winners only made two hits and only one of them was involved in the run-scoring. The winners made four safeties but couldn't come through with men on the bases off "Dada" Patterson.

The game was scoreless until the last of the fifth when the gay spot team scored a run on a hit by Jerry Armstrong, a passed ball and an infield out. It added one in the sixth on a hit batsman, a sacrifice and a couple of errors.

Loser Ralph Bollum gave up a bunt single to Merle Knaus in the second and Armstrong's hit in the fifth. He walked one, hit two batters and fanned four. Bollum whiffed four of the first five batters to face him.

Wertsch's had single hits off Patterson in the first and fifth and two in the third. It

Two Catholic League Teams Play 1st Foes

Both Marinette, Pennings Open With New Coaches

Menasha — Two Fox Valley catholic conference football squads will open their slates with non-league encounters this weekend.

Marinette Central Catholic will play host to Coleman tonight and Abbott Pennings (formerly St. Norbert) will entertain Wisconsin Rapids Assumption Sunday afternoon.

The other teams swing into action next weekend, St. Mary against Assumption, Little Chute St. John against St. Norbert and Fond Du Lac Springs against Waukesha Memorial.

Both Marinette and DePere are launching their campaigns under the tutelage of new coaches. Marty Crowe, former Marshfield Columbus mentor who recently has been coaching in Minnesota, has taken over the reins at Marinette while Pennings will be guided by Don LaViolette, former Fond Du Lac Springs basketball coach and up to last year head mentor in all sports at Beloit Catholic.

14 Lettermen
From a squad of 40 players, Pennings has 14 lettermen, including five regulars. Starters are Jim Tobias and Jim Frito, tackles; John Whitney (from Neenah) and Harley Roffers, guards; and fullback Joe Schmidt.

Other boys with varsity experience are Bob Zeltan and Nick Meuwisen, ends; Doug Martell, tackle; "Chuck" Tomachek, guard; and backs Larry Bougie, Larry Schmidt, John Heller, Tom Ready and Ray Rottler.

Crowe has a dozen lettermen at Marinette from a squad which won only two games in the last three seasons.

Directs Attack
Conference basketball scoring champion Bob Pecotte will direct the attack at halfback while Joe Gawaskie will be at quarterback with the other starters to be chosen from Mike Donovan, a transfer from Minnesota, Jim Kosh, Gerry Harpt and Bruce Christangel.

Pat Bradley, a back the last three years, and Jack Early are starters at ends with seniors Steve Bell and John Borst at tackles; John Donovan and John Dory, guards; and Gene Reiszewitz or Bob Harbick, center.

Expect Between 40-50 Breeds of Dogs for Show

Neenah — Between 40 and 50 breeds of dogs are expected to be shown at the Winne-gamie Dog club's "parade of dogs," from 7 to 9 p.m. Sept. 23 and 24 at Valley Fair.

Plans for the project were discussed at the group's monthly meeting Thursday night at the Whiting Boat-house.

Mrs. Fred Meissner and Mrs. Mike Schultz will prepare a complete list of breeders of dogs which will be made into booklet form to be distributed at the show.

Loyal Vogel is chairman, assisted by Richard Van Zuren. Carol Werner is in charge of posters.

The club discussed a possible confirmation class in connection with its obedience training program.

Area Outboard Pilots Enter Regattas in Michigan, Illinois

Neenah — Twin City outboard drivers will divide their talents between races in Illinois and Michigan this weekend.

Most of the local group will enter the Midwest championship races Saturday and Sunday at Kankakee, Ill., while several plan to compete in weekend regattas at Ontonagon and Newberry, Mich.

Don Schmitzer placed first in B hydro to lead area drivers in the Kankakee races last Labor day.

Jitter-Joe Slugger Bob Briceco is greeted by third base coach Larry Marquardt en route home on his grand slam homer in Friday's tournament game against Sheboygan Red Arrow. Briceco's 4-run clout featured a 6-run fifth inning in Jitter's 9-0 victory. The Menashans meet Appleton Gay Spot Sunday afternoon.

Over 70 Twin City Bowling Leagues Set for '59-60 Play

Three Mixed Couples Loops Launch Slates This Weekend

Neenah — The Twin City bowling campaign — over 70 leagues strong — will get underway in earnest next week with most of the circuits at three of the local establishments opening firing for the 1959-60 season.

Menasha Recreation, in the midst of a change in management, will start league and open bowling the week of Sept. 21.

The Winchester - Clayton wheel got a jump on all the other leagues with a session Thursday night at Muench's Recreation. The Automobile Mixed Couples wheel starts Sunday night at the same alleys.

New Couples Loop
At Mid-Town, this weekend, the Goo-Offs, a new mixed couples league, will roll at 7 p.m. Sunday night while the Advanced Auto Mixed wheel starts at 9 p.m. Saturday at the same site.

No action is scheduled next Monday but Tuesday the tempo will pick up and by the end of the month all of the local circuits will be open for business.

Installation of automatic pin setters has been completed at Muench's and other new equipment also has been installed. Improvements at Lakeroad Lanes includes redecorating and a larger parking area. Pin setters were put in there a year ago. Mid-Town is beginning its third year with the automatic pin boys.

City Tourneys
Except for the Neenah City association tournament at Lakeroad and the Menasha meet at Menasha Recreation, no other tourneys will be held here. The last two years the Central Fox Valley Women's association meet was spread over the four establishments and just three years ago the Twin Cities were host to the state women's meet.

Mid-Town has three new leagues, the Goo-Offs, the LLL Couples league and the 3-Man Classic which has been a summer circuit the last two years. At Lakeroad, a Monday afternoon business men's wheel and a mixed loop at 5 p.m. on Sunday's are being organized.

Menasha Recreation, which starts a week later than the other three, will be managed by Harvey Badtke of Ripon. It will begin remodeling and expects to have its automatics in by Dec. 26 with no interruptions for the bowlers.

Other Leagues
Most of the "Rec's" leagues will start the week of the 21st. Leagues that rolled there last year included the Catholic Men and Mixed Corn on Monday, Victory Women and Germania, Tuesday, Bania Men and Wednesday Ladies, Wednesday: Valley Men, Thursday: Commercial, Friday, and Bird, Winchester, Winnebago Fish and KCA on weekends. The complete list of leagues and times will be published later.

Twin City bowlers are hoping for as successful a season as last year. There were 26 honor counts shot by women and 10 by men. Many bowlers continued their action into the summer which was highlighted by Les Dahms' 300 game at Lakeroad.

The schedule where times and dates are available includes:

MONDAY
First Niter, men, Lakeroad, 16 teams, 7 p.m. Sept. 14.
Tri-City Major, women, Lakeroad, 16 teams, 9 p.m. Sept. 14.

Mac's Test Reedsville In Valley Loop Tangle

Begin Series of Three Makeup Encounters; Gries Expects to Hurl for Menasha Entry

Menasha — Their regular schedule of games out of the leading hitter, who was forced to sit out the Freedom way, the Menasha Macs now go about the task of making up postponed contests, starting with a fracas at Reedsville Sunday afternoon.

The Macs, who were to play at the State Reformatory today in an exhibition fray, currently have a 5-0 Fox Valley league record with Sunday's tests plus other makeup games against Oshkosh and Little Chute-Kimberly still on the docket.

The Little Chute - Kimberly entry leads with a 7-0 slate, its only makeup being the twice-postponed Mac test. The Macs, who because of postponements, played only two games last month, turned back Appleton in their most recent league start.

Reedsville Cops
Gene Gries, who hurled a 6-hitter against the Valley Fair team, is expected to take time out from football practice at St. Norbert college to hurl Sunday's games. The Menashans are shorthanded in the mound department since Tom Balthazor, their other regular hurler, also is away at school. The staff also includes Cliff Reed, who has seen limited action.

Reedsville broke out of the cellar with an 18-12 win over winless Harrison last week. The Manitowoc county entry has only won two games and both were over the Harrison nine.

The Reedsville team has good power but has used about seven or eight different pitchers, and none has been consistent.

Take 11-6 Decision
The Macs registered an 11-6 win the first round meeting, scoring all of its runs in two innings. Gries was the winner and Bob Kubale was charged with the loss.

The Mac lineup will be strengthened by the return of Jack Konezke, the league's leading hitter, who was forced to sit out the Freedom and Appleton games, because he missed the league All-Star game.

Returning lettermen include Bruce Armstrong, end; Wayne Belke, fullback; halfbacks Bob Dosch and Dick Ricco; Les Jonas, center; Joe Lorenz and Harold Nelson, tackles, and Tom Malchow, quarterback.

Other lettermen who missed the opening drills were Jim Moreau, Earl Kandler, and Larry Brunet, backs, and Tom Peterson, Dave Krause and Ron Kunstman, linemen.

Minor lettermen on the squad include John Binkowski and Al Coenen, ends; Tony Heus, Larry Pennewell, Ralph Syring and Pat Trudell, ends; and tackle Jerry Leu.

Fox Cities area players among the newcomers include Dave Daggett, Omro; Bryce Schmude, Butte des Morts; John Seibold, Hilbert; and Andy Whitaker, Kaukauna, backs, and Wayne Hoffman, Don Mellberg, Leonard Mutz, Wayne Schroeder and David Nikolaus, Oshkosh; Ray Pitsch, Kimberly; William Sund, Neenah, and Dennis Wydeven, Kimberly, linemen.

Other new candidates are John Van Sistine, Berlin; Dave Ermond, Two Rivers; Ken Gast and John Walsdorf, Kiel; Jim Helm, Plymouth; Ken Kraft, Sunset Lake; and Alen Larke, Waupun, backs, and Henry Budde, Beaver Dam; Ron Glaeser, Kiel; Russ Henriksen, Redgranite; Cliff Heus, New Holstein; Gerrit Leeftink, Mountain, and LeRoy Rentmeester, Plymouth, linemen.

Bowling Meeting
Menasha—The organizational meeting of the Ladies Wednesday Night Bowling league will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the High Life Inn. The league will bowl at the Menasha Recreation alleys.

Foxes Drop From Title Picture, 4-3

Green Bay Bumps Bruckbauer To Axe Losers' Home Winning Streak; Clubs Here Tonight

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN

In the course of their sterling second-round comeback, the fighting Fox Cities Foxes solved about every problem save one: How to beat Green Bay in a close ball game.

Because of that shortcoming, which popped up again Friday night, the Foxes have been removed from the Three-I league title picture.

Steinhour Presides Not even the redoubtable right-hander, Fred Bruckbauer, could save the Foxes from their fourth straight loss in 1-run decisions against the Bluejays. Lefty Jim Steinhour presided at a 4-3 conquest before 831 paying witnesses at Goodland field.

Bruckbauer The 1-run Bluejay hex was so potent that it axed the Foxes' home-field winning streak at nine straight and terminated Bruckbauer's personal success string at five.

Emery Hits Pair Of 3-Run Homers In Win Over Chiefs

By The Associated Press The stage was set Friday night for the Three-I league playoffs when Des Moines' Cal Emery smashed two homers and led the Demons to an 11-6 pennant-clinching victory over Lincoln. Des Moines has won seven in a row.

Des Moines meets Green Bay, winner of the first-half version of the flag chase, in the Iowa capital city for two games beginning Tuesday night. Then the scene shifts to Green Bay for the remainder of the best-of-5 series.

Emery, whose homers were worth three runs each time, took over the lead in that department with 26 and moved his RBI lead to 124. He also leads in doubles. A crowd of 2,261 lifted Des Moines' home attendance total to 88,923 for 58 dates — tops in the circuit.

Green Bay removed Fox Cities from the race, 4-3.

Elsewhere, Cedar Rapids' Bob Wedin pitched a 2-hitter to beat Burlington, 3-2. The Bees this season hit 60,554 — a gain of nearly 10,000 over last season. Horace Garner's homer and Dutch Woerner's pitching led Sioux City to a 5-1 victory at Topeka before 2,040 fans.

'Mickey' Wright Leads In Cosmopolitan Open

Rockton, Ill. — Mickey Wright, national women's champ, combined long drives with a deadly iron game Friday to shoot a 5-under-par 67 to the lead in the first round of the Cosmopolitan Women's Open Golf tournament.

The San Diego, Calif., sharpshooter was only a stroke in front of Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., on the 6-107 yard Macktown Forest preserve layout.

Giants Lose to Cubs on Pair of Unearned Runs; Pirates Fall Too

By The Associated Press Yes, sir, boy, that's a real hot race for the National league pennant. The top three clubs over-all have lost three more games than they've won in the past two weeks of the stretch drive.

Pittsburgh's caught the fever, too. After nuzzling into the race, the fourth-place Bucs now have lost three straight.

The San Francisco Giants have managed to lose seven of their last 11 games. Yet they still lead by two.

Blow Half Game Second — place Los Angeles is the only winner among the top three over the past two weeks, and the Dodgers are only 5-3 for that span.

Milwaukee's third — place Braves, in pursuit of their third straight flag, have lost six of their last 10.

Kansas City — (U) — Bob Goetz, Jerry Pittman or Mason Tudhope may or may not be among the top finishers in the Kansas City Open Golf tournament. But after Friday's round they had the old pros talking to themselves.

Goetz, a 26-year-old from Tulsa, Okla., fired a 7-under-par 65 for the first round lead in the $20,000 tournament on Blue Hills Country Club course.

Pittman, 22, also of Tulsa, shot a 34-32-66, and Tudhope of Clarksville, Tenn., got the same total on a pair of 33s.

Braves Gain on 3-Hitter

Cincinnati — (U) — Ageless Warren Spahn pitched a brilliant 3-hitter Friday night to give Milwaukee a 4-1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds and keep the Braves in the running for the National league pennant.

The victory enabled the Braves to gain a full game on the league — leading San Francisco Giants who were beaten by the Chicago Cubs, 2-1. The Braves now are 34 games behind the Giants and 11 behind the second-place Los Angeles Dodgers. The Braves also moved ahead one game on fourth place Pittsburgh and now are in front of the Pirates by two full games.

One Walk The 38-year-old Spahn allowed only one walk as he chalked up his 18th victory against 13 defeats. He would have had an easy shutout except for a 2-base error by Joe Adcock in the first inning that enabled the Reds to score their one run. It was the 264th vic-

Eight days ago, Chicago's weary Sox appeared on the brink of a battering as they moved into Cleveland for a 4-game series. It touched off a showdown schedule of seven games in 10 days with the power-swinging, second-place Indians.

The White Sox, their pitching worn thin, had dropped four of their last 10 games

Ties New York

In the scramble for third place, Detroit tied New York by beating Kansas City, 9-2, behind Don Mossi's 6-hitter while the Yankees lost, 3-0, to Baltimore, blanked on six singles by Milt Pappas.

Washington eliminated last weekend, defeated Boston, 4-3, and officially knocked the Red Sox out of the race. Kansas City also dropped out.

The White Sox, now 31-9, in 1-run decisions nailed the Indians with an eighth-inning run off Jim Perry (10-7). Earl Torgeson, running for Ted Kluszewski, who singled, barreled home from first for a 3-1 lead when center fielder Tito Francona bobbled Sherm Lollar's single.

Wynn, at 39 now No. 16 on the all-time list of winners with 267, gave up five hits, one Jim Baxes' 15th homer, walked three and struck out five in his eight innings while beating the Indians for the ninth time in 10 decisions since they traded him to the Sox two years ago. Gerry Staley pitched the ninth, giving up a run.

Dick Savitt Shows Youngster He Still Has All the Strokes

Forest Hills, N. Y. — Remember the moody, almost snarling Dick Savitt who would brood for hours after losing a tennis match?

That fellow has disappeared from the scene and a new Dick Savitt is playing in the national championships this year.

Savitt, at 32, has played in only three previous tournaments this year. But he still has the strokes, as a youngster by the name of Martin Riessen will quickly agree.

Savitt, Big In the first round Friday, Savitt came upon Riessen, a 17-year-old from Hinsdale, Ill., who is being counted upon to help the United States regain the Davis Cup in a couple of years. Result: Savitt by 8-6, 6-0, 6-1.

All the top players who got into action on the first day of the 10-day grind moved ahead.

Alex Olmedo, slumping U.S. Davis Cup star by way of Peru, headed the advance with a 6-0, 6-1, 6-1 triumph over Big 10 doubles champion Gerald Dubie, Detroit. Olmedo is seeded No. 1.

Buchholz Pressed Earl Buchholz, Jr., St. Louis, Olmedo's cup doubles partner, had a tussle before downing Robert Bowditch, Worcester, Mass., 9-7, 6-3, 6-3.

Australia's Rod Laver, seeded No. 4, turned back Arthur Ashe, a promising 16-year-old Negro from Lynchburg, Va., 6-2, 7-5, 6-2.

Roy Emerson, No. 8, another Australian ace, defeated John Skogstad, Coral Gables, Fla., 12-10, 6-1, 6-1.

The other top seeds get into action today. They include Neale Fraser, No. 2, Australia's one-man Davis Cup gang; Barry MacKay, Dayton, Ohio, No. 3, and India's Ramana-athan Krishnan, No. 5.

Dulak Takes Part In MU Workouts

Milwaukee — (U) — A controlled scrimmage was on the agenda for the Marquette football squad this afternoon, with members of the coaching staff on the field to stop play and make needed corrections.

The Warriors eased off contact work Friday and spent both drills reviewing plays and maneuvers and adding a few offensive tricks, mainly passing plays.

Center Ron Dulak took part in both workouts though hampered by a back injury suffered this summer. Coach Lisle Blackburn moved tackle John Boyth to a tentative guard post.

Appleton's 1959-60 Pin Season Opens

Big Changes Made in Alleys; 48 Leagues Set to Operate

BY MIKE DREW
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

There have been some big changes made in Appleton's three bowling emporiums.

The trio—Hahn's, the Elks and the Appleton Club association—are ready for the heavy onslaught of 48 leagues. The biggest improvement has been at Hahn's, where 16 new automatic pinsetters have been installed—the first "automatics" in Appleton. Hahn's was closed from June 3 to July 9 for the installation, the longest summer shutdown since those alleys were built.

League kegling got under way Friday night at Hahn's where the 8-team Sportsmen's loop kicked off the local season.

Open Bowling
The ACA opens its doors after a summer-long shutdown, for open bowling Tuesday. First league action is set for Thursday evening in the 8-team Veterans' league.

The Elks lanes are available for open bowling, beginning today. Wednesday the 10-team Western and 10-team Merchants wheels start league activity there.

In addition to the "automatics," another innovation at Hahn's is the installation of air blowers, in place of towels, for drying kegler's hands. George Hahn, Jr., is beginning his eighth season as manager of the alleys—the largest in the city with 16 lanes.

A good deal of new equipment has also gone in at the 8-alley Elks lanes where Dick Sheldon is beginning his fourth season. The most noticeable features are new ball returns, new bowlers' benches and improved lighting.

Pastel Colors
The fiberglass benches are in pastel colors of orange, blue and grey—to "cheer up the place," as Sheldon puts it. The Elks alleys have been resurfaced and new equipment has been installed in the "pits"—the back end.

ACA Manager Jack Van Caster begins his thirteenth campaign as head man at the 5-lane establishment. Semi-automatic pin-setters have been installed, requiring just one pin-boy for two machines.

The alleys have been resurfaced and the color scheme in the entire interior has been changed.

Bowling prices remain the same at all three alleys.

UW Coaching Staff Studies Passing Of VanderKelen

Madison—(U)—Wisconsin's football squad holds another scrimmage this afternoon behind closed gates as Coach Milt Bruhn prepares the Badgers for the opener against Stanford here on the 26th.

The squad went through passing and running drills Friday, along with a limited amount of contact work, as Bruhn ordered something of a breather after the season's first scrimmage the previous day.

In the morning session the squad worked without pads and saw movies of the initial scrimmage.

Many Mistakes
"We found plenty of mistakes which we think we can correct," Bruhn said.

The movies also showed that sophomore tackle Brian Moore did some fine work, leading Bruhn to say, "Moore definitely should help us this year."

The coaching staff also paid special attention Friday to the passing of Ron VanderKelen, sophomore quarterback from Green Bay.

Because of injuries, guards Jerry Kulcinski, Charley Sprague and Tom Grantham were unlikely to see action today. The injured list also includes end Mike Stanki and center Otto Piecker.

By The Associated Press

Pitching
Early Wynn, White Sox, allowed only five hits and one run before giving up a pinch-hitter in the ninth inning for second straight victory over Indians, a 2-0 decision that gave Sox 61-game lead.

Hitting
Frank Aaron, Braves, drove in three runs with three hits for 4-1 victory over Reds and topped his major league-leading batting average to .261.

and Williams singled to right. Scott sacrificed. Tim Harkness walked (the last two pitches were intentional balls) to fill the bases. Sancinimo's deep fly to center plated the run.

Last Big Chance
The Foxes' last big chance came in the fifth, but their efforts fell short, thanks largely to second baseman Parker. Parker, who cavorted at Goodland field as a Sheboygan Redskin in Wisconsin State league days, made a dazzling play to throw out lead-off batter Nate Oliver.

Bruckbauer drove his second straight hit—a single—to left center. Phil Condu walked. Ron Dibelius beat out an infield hit to load the bases with one out. Parker threw out Vila on another fine play. Bruckbauer scoring. Steinhour then shut the door by striking out Weatherspoon.

Steinhour, in earning his first win in three decisions against the 1959 Foxes, allowed but one hit in the final four frames and retired the last 11 batters in succession.

Harrison '9' Will Meet Old-Timers

Harrison — The Harrison team of the Fox River Valley Baseball league will play an Old-Timers' team at 2 p.m. Labor day at the Sherwood Legion park (Harrison's home diamond).

Norm McIntyre will be the starting pitcher for the Old-Timers. He will be caught by Ken Kress.

The Old-Timers lineup will also include such players as Dave Huhn, "Butch" Vande Yacht, Bob Vande Hey, Bob Berghuis and Al Becker.

Joe De Bruin or Louis Van Rossum will pitch for Harrison.

More than 100 prizes, donated by Harrison merchants, will be given away to players and fans.

"We do seem to get the breaks against Cleveland. I remember from when I managed Cleveland that Chicago always gave the Indians trouble.

"I don't tell the players anything special when we play the Indians. The inspiration comes from within each of them."

Chicago's victory was the club's thirty-first 1-run triumph in 40 such games. Early Wynn posted his eighteenth win against nine defeats and his 267th major league win, high in both leagues and good for sixteenth place on baseball's all-time winners' list.

Foxes' Maestri Still Leads Loop in ERA

Vila and Condu Rank Among Top 4 Hitters

The Fox Cities Foxes had three of the top nine hitters in the Three-I league in latest circuit statistics. The official figures include games only through Tuesday, except for the Foxes' 13-inning 2-1 victory over Cedar Rapids Tuesday night.

The Foxes also have the loop's earned run leader, Hector Maestri, and the No. 3 man, Fred Bruckbauer.

Des Moines' Wayne Graham has taken over the batting lead, increasing his average 11 points to .332. Heran Vila of the Foxes remained second with a mark of .331, followed by Merritt Ranew of Cedar Rapids with .329, Phil Condu of the Foxes with .325, and Tim Harkness of Green Bay, the erstwhile leader, with .321. The Foxes' Carlos "Potato" Pascual is ninth with .303.

Lynn Leads

Lincoln's Jim Lynn was tops in hits, with 140. Cal Emery of Des Moines had the most doubles, 39, and Mike Hershberger of Lincoln the most triples, 10. Tom McDonald of Sioux City was high in homers with 24.

Emery has the most runs batted in, 117, while Dick Howser of Sioux City leads in runs scored, with 99. Lincoln's Don Bacon has stolen the most bases, 30.

The Foxes' Maestri owned a 2.61 earned run average while Don MacLeod of Cedar Rapids posted a 13-2 won-loss record. Larry Maxie of Cedar Rapids had the most strikeouts, 180.

The top 10 batters and pitchers (based on earned run average) and all Foxes follow.

Lucy Reports Support For Reelection Drive

Milwaukee — Patrick J. Lucy, Democratic state chairman, said in an interview Friday night that although he has not decided whether he will seek reelection, he has been pledged support by more than 60 of the 71 county chairmen.

Lucy's 3-year term will be up this year and a chairman will be chosen at the November convention of the party here.

Showers May Miss Valley Until Monday

Rain, evident in the state forecast for the weekend, may miss the Fox Cities at least until Monday.

Scattered showers and thundershowers are forecast for the west and northwest portion of the state. They are not due to move into the central portion of the state until sometime Monday when they will be of the scattered variety.

Overnight temperatures Friday were not as cool as the previous two nights as the temperature got down only as far as 66. The high Friday was 83 and it is slated to remain between 85 and 90 degree mark through Sunday.

Brick southerly winds were ushering the warming trend into Wisconsin.

Today's Deaths

Robert Dehart

Robert Dehart, 74, of 1703 N. Bennett street, who formerly operated barber shops in Forest Junction and Appleton, died at 2:45 this morning at home after a long illness.

He was born Nov. 10, 1884, in Elliot county, Ky., and lived in Appleton for 16 years before moving to Forest Junction, where he spent 16 years before moving back to Appleton.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Evangelical United Brethren church, with the Rev. Gust J. Blum, former pastor, in charge. Burial will be in Highland Memorial park. Friends may call at the Wichmann funeral home from 2 p.m. Monday until 9:30 a.m. Tuesday and then at the church until time of services.

Survivors are the widow; one son, Earl, Appleton; four brothers, Tom, Auburn, Wash., John, Crandon, Arnos, Long Lake, and Daniel, Crandon, and two grandchildren.

Mrs. Anton Dexheimer

Funeral services for Mrs. Anton Dexheimer, 78, route 1, Brillion, who died Friday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Albert Jopfersperger, after a long illness will be at 10 a.m. Monday at St. John Lutheran church, town of Woodville, Calumet county.

Friends may call at the Greenwood funeral home, Kaukauna, after 2 p.m. Sunday until the time of the services. Burial will be in St. John cemetery, Elkhardt Lake.

Survivors, besides Mrs. Jopfersperger, are two other daughters, Mrs. Joseph Moore, Chicago, and Mrs. Alfred Eisenman, Green Bay; two sons, Roland, Forest Junction; and Anton, Brillion; two brothers, Ray Harbrecht, St. Paul; and John, Sheboygan; one sister, Mrs. Virgil Nickols, Salt Lake City, Utah; 3 grandchildren and 26 great-grandchildren.

Hiram Colwell

Hiram Colwell, 70, Chicago, well-known band leader in this area about 25 years ago, died Friday morning after a 7-month illness. He formerly lived in the vicinity of Synco and Manawa for many years.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Booth funeral home, Manawa, with the Rev. Norman Lawton, pastor of Manawa Methodist church, in charge. Burial will be in Synco cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 p.m. Monday.

Survivors include the widow; one daughter, Mrs. Arthur Benson, Rockford, Ill.; two brothers, Evan Colwell, Auburn, Calif., and Charles Colwell, Kenosha; two sisters and two grandchildren.

Mrs. Della F. Lockery

Mrs. Della Feavel Lockery, 88, Beloit, sister of George Feavel, Neenah, died at her home in Beloit at noon Friday after having been in ill health for some time. She was born March 3, 1873, in Burlington and had lived in Beloit for the last seven years.

Funeral services will be at 3 p.m. Tuesday at the Wichmann funeral home, with the Rev. Richard C. Schroeder of First Congregational church, in charge. Burial will be in Riverside cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home from 11 a.m. Tuesday until the time of the services.

Other survivors are one son and two grandchildren.

Reiter Funeral

Funeral services for Mrs. John Reiter, 74, route 2, Hilbert, will be at 9:30 a.m. Monday at St. John the Baptist Catholic church, St. John.

Mrs. Reiter died unexpectedly of a heart attack at 9:30 p.m. Thursday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ted Malby, Milwaukee, where she had been staying.

Friends may call at the Kapitzke funeral home, Hilbert, from 10 a.m. Sunday to the time of service. Burial will be in the St. John the Baptist parish cemetery with the Rev. Leonard Weckel in charge. The rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Sunday at the funeral home.

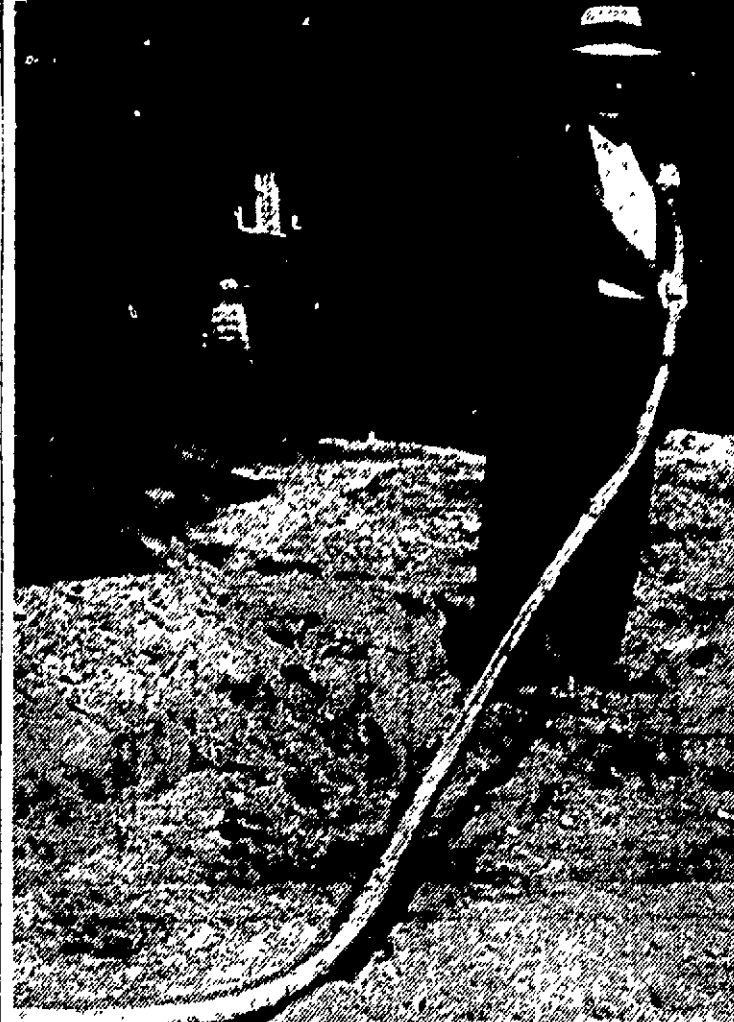

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Malby; six brothers, Nick, Peter, Blase, Alfred and Lawrence Phiel, all of Hilbert, and John Phiel, Milwaukee; one sister, Mrs. Anna Haller, North Highland, Calif.; four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Gumball Machine

An Appleton patrolman about 11:15 p.m. Friday found parts of a penny gumball machine scattered around the plot of grass between the public library and the YMCA. The gum machine had been taken from the YMCA.

William F. Wolf, 84-year-old former curator of the Grignon home, inspects the remnants of Appleton's first "white way", a 1-inch gas main uncovered by construction workmen preparing the west approach to the College avenue high bridge. Wolf says the pipe was laid during the 1880's and that lamplighters went up and down the avenue nightly, carrying ladders to light the lamps.

Lamplighter Era Recalled as Workmen Uncover Gas Mains

The remnants of Appleton's first "white way" — 1-inch iron gas pipe — have been cropped up as the city marches down the roadway of progress.

Workmen preparing the west approach to the new College avenue high level bridge unearthed the small, abandoned mains about two feet below the surface and about two feet from the sidewalk on both sides of the avenue.

At first they were afraid to touch the corroded pipes, fearing they might contain water or gas. But William F. Wolf, 84-year-old former curator of the Grignon home in Kaukauna, identified them as lamplighter days.

In 1880's Wolf recalls that when he was a small boy, sometime in the '80's, an Appleton gas company installed the mains, connecting them to 8-foot wooden light poles on every corner along the avenue and to a few of the E. College mansions.

In the evenings, Wolf says, the city lamplighter would walk up and down the avenue, carrying his 8-foot ladder under one arm and his box of sulphur-tipped, smelly matches in his pocket, chatting with friends out for an evening stroll.

When he would arrive at a pole, he would set up his ladder, climb up until he could reach the square, glass box enclosure, strike his match and light the flame.

The era of the gaslit lamplighter was a short-lived one, Wolf recalls. Sometime in the 1890's, electricity took over in Appleton and the gas mains fell into disuse.

Now not even the pipe remains.

Birth Record

The following births were announced today at Fox Cities area hospitals:

St. Elizabeth: Son to Mr. and Mrs. Leo Vanden Brandt, 821 E. Fremont street.

Daughters to: Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Gaffney, 303 First street, Kimberly.

Mr. and Mrs. William Christensen, 4134 W. College avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tellcock, 1035 Timmers avenue.

Appleton Memorial: Sons to: Mr. and Mrs. John Denner, 713 N. Meade street.

Mr. and Mrs. William Tordor, route 2, Menasha.

Daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wolff, 1561 W. Prospect avenue.

Kaukauna Community: Son to Mr. and Mrs. James Kobussen, route 3, Kaukauna.

Theda Clark: Son to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tremil, 224 Broad street, Menasha.

Daughters to: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rindt, Hortonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Tucker, route 1, Shiocton.

3 Injured In Crashes

Pedestrian Struck, Another Caught Between Cars

Three persons, two of them pedestrians, were slightly injured in accidents Friday afternoon and evening, Appleton police reported.

Mrs. William Rippenhagen, 54, of 129 E. Hancock street, was struck on a turning car driven by Lawrence P. Hauser, 36, of 1914 N. Superior street, as she crossed from south to north on N. Oneida street at Atlantic. She was taken to Appleton Memorial hospital by Larry's ambulance with bruises of the left hip and arm.

John Gehrmann, 907 N. Lincoln avenue, received bruised legs when he was caught between two cars at Appleton street and College avenue. Gehrmann walked between a stopped car driven by Douglas D. Leith, 16, of 1130 W. Eighth street, and one backing on College, driven by Esther E. Jaeger, route 1, Manawa.

Cars driven by John A. Schommer, 33, of 1713 S. Jackson street, and Ronald M. Beyer, 17, route 1, Black Creek, collided at College avenue and Mason street, bruising Beyer's leg. Beyer's car skidded 54 feet after the impact and he was given a traffic summons for no vehicle registration.

Cars driven by Miss Priscilla M. Swan, 21, Beaver Dam, and Mrs. Esther E. Raschig, of 1314 Oakcrest court, collided at Alton and Lawe street after Mrs. Raschig stopped for a stop sign, then pulled in front of Miss Swan's car.

Must Legally Prove Man Not Civil War Vet, Texas Decides

Austin, Texas — Critically ill Walter Williams will continue to draw his $300 a month state pension until it is legally proven he is not the last surviving Confederate veteran.

Gov. Price Daniel headed the list of state officials who yesterday rejected a story earlier this week from Washington that the Houston Centennial is not a veteran of the Civil war.

All of the evidence available in state offices and Confederate records indicates that Walter Williams is the last surviving Confederate veteran.

We shall respect and follow the records of the state and the confederacy rather than the archives of the federal government which have always been recognized as incomplete with respect to members of the confederate armies," Daniel said.

Two Friars Take Vows At Indiana Seminary

Two Appleton Capuchin friars made solemn profession at a ceremony preceded by a solemn high mass Sept. 1 at the new Capuchin seminary of St. Mary, Crown Point, Ind.

They are Fraters Norbert (formerly Joseph) Wolf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon J. Wolf, 335 W. Prospect avenue, and Frater Valerian (formerly Donald) Wydeven, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Wydeven, 1110 W. Fifth street.

Both will spend four more years in study before being ordained into the priesthood.

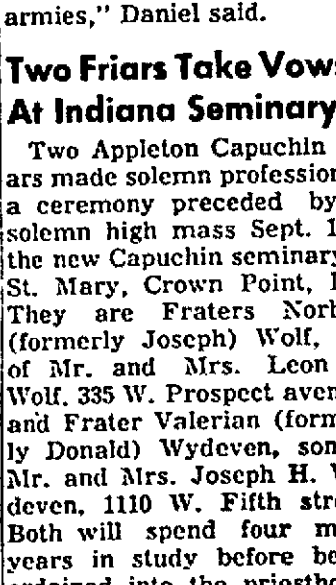

Parents, relatives and friends of the two young friars attended the ceremony. The sermon was given by Fr. Alvin Schutkovske, OFM, Cap., who is director of retreats at Monte Alverno retreat house, Appleton.

Story Hours

Story hours for pre-school children will begin at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday at the Appleton Public Library with Miss Alice Dresser, children's librarian, in charge. Regular story hours for school age children will be resumed at 12 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 12.

61 Arrested as Cops Crack Down

New York — New York's

desperate action to cope with a rising crime wave involving both youngsters and adults led to 61 arrests of young men along the west side of Central park last night and early today.

Residents and passersby complained to police that they were being annoyed by persons on sidewalks bordering the park from 66th to 88th streets.

Police squads rushed into action. Between 8 p.m. and 3 a.m. they nabbed the 61 young men on disorderly conduct charges.

Elsewhere in the city, a 74-year-old man was beaten and robbed, a policeman was stabbed and a 65-year-old woman was robbed at gunpoint in her home.

Expect Election Soon in Britain

London — Britain stood by today for word of a snap election within the next few weeks.

With President Eisenhower's visit already the center of political debate, Prime Minister Macmillan was expected to fix a national poll for one of the five Thursdays in October. Most favored dates are the 8th or 15th.

Opposition labor and liberal party commentators and even some pro-conservative pundits joined in assailing Macmillan's handling of the Eisenhower visit to Britain.

Strong Quakes Felt At Yellowstone Park

Yellowstone National Park, Wyo. — A tremor described as the strongest since the Aug. 17 earthquake was felt near the center of Yellowstone national park this morning.

At Canyon, a resort a few miles north of Yellowstone lake, the tremor at about 5 a.m. awakened Labor Day weekenders and broke a stack of dishes in a cafeteria.

General Manager Col. Joseph E. Primeau, a retired air force officer, said the quake was the strongest since the big earthquakes that tore western Montana three weeks ago.

Philosophy Shift Seen in Tax Study

Finding of Industry's Role in State Revenue Picture Unexpected From Liberal Thinking Committee

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison — The apparent conclusion of the liberals now in control of the state government that Wisconsin tax policy is comparatively severe for industrial enterprise adds a provocative new ingredient to the continuing political debate about the state's tax structure.

The issue has been raised frequently, but mostly by organizations and individuals regarded as conservatives, in the ideological line-up.

Now Gov. Gaylord Nelson, titular leader of the ruling state Democratic party and a man with adequate credentials as tested by the liberal philosophy, publicly announces he is "disturbed" by the implications of his own tax impact study committee report.

Incongruous Situation

The incongruity of the situation is emphasized anew, moreover, by the fact the authors of the tax committee report, in varying degrees, have long been identified with liberal political philosophy and practice.

Prof. Harold Groves, one of a probable Republican challenge on tax revision and an amelioration of the state's competitive tax position for business.

Some Republican politicians have privately discussed the suitability of making a main campaign issue out of the question of tax revision, with a challenge to Nelson as the leader of the Democratic administration to do something about it.

While the governor was carefully general in his comments at his news conference when the tax report was released, he was also unusually thoughtful. Nelson is usually free wheeling in his dealings with correspondents. In this instance he prepared a statement, and declined to be drawn into elaboration of it. Obviously he is measuring the political effect of the document.

The documentation of the tax researchers points with reasonable clarity toward a long-range adjustment of tax policy and the distribution of the weight of the state-local tax burden, including consideration of some kind of a general sales tax.

Some Republicans believe they can make an issue of the sales tax that will appeal to the voters next year. Some Democrats are privately convinced they will be required to enact one, if they stay in power for more than one term. But they are uncomfortably hedged in by their previous campaign records and their platform statements.

Only last fall candidate Nelson appeared to want a less restrictive tax plank than the party ultimately adopted in its platform, but was unable to convince the rank and file of the party's workers.

Since that time he has made dozens of speeches in which he has warned about "inflexibility... of view on the tax question, and about 'preconceived notions,' obviously trying to soften the habitual attitude of his party and some of its important components such as organized labor.

He has called for state-wide discussion of the state tax problem on a town hall level, and meanwhile at Madison has taken extraordinary pains to publicize the problem and its nature.

The publicity campaign for the tax report first chapter was carefully planned for maximum coverage and emphasis. The new Democratic leader of the state government appears to be moving deliberately in the direction of basic new tax policies. If he is successful in the legislature this fall, he may be able to challenge the Republicans in his reelection campaign on his own terms next year.

Crash Victim Still Critical, Unconscious

Kaukauna — Richard Van Bortel, 20, of 704 Grand avenue, Little Chute, is still unconscious and in critical condition at Kaukauna Community hospital.

He was injured when the car in which he was a passenger crashed into a telephone pole at 311 Main street, Little Chute, about 2:10 a.m. Friday.

Little Chute police said today they are continuing their investigation of the accident.

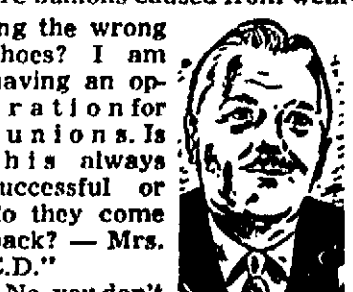

Elwyn LeBrec, 21, route 1, Kaukauna, the driver, told police he was forced off the road by a car that did not stop.

Operations Usually Prove Successful in Bunion Cases

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Can a person inherit bunions? Or are bunions caused from wearing the wrong shoes? I am having an operation for bunions. Is this always successful or do they come back? — Mrs. C.D."

No, you don't "inherit" bunions, although it is possible (but not common) to inherit some physical characteristic which makes one more likely to develop them. A bunion means that the structure of the foot has been thrown out of place, and improperly fitting shoes are the only cause of which I have any knowledge. An operation always is second best to not needing one. But the operation is usually successful. I suggest you arrange to have the doctor examine your feet at reasonably close intervals for some time afterward, to make sure that no new trouble develops. Don't "have an operation" and then take a chance of more trouble when very moderate care later will assure permanent success.

Produced by Chemical

"Dear Dr. Molner: Is there any truth to the saying that asparagus cleans the kidneys? The peculiar odor after eating asparagus... is this common or should we have a checkup? — N.B."

To H.H. and N.B. and others who have asked (and to still others who haven't) here's the answer: It is not a matter of "cleaning the kidneys." It is not only common, it is normal. There is a chemical in asparagus which causes an increased flow of urine and produces the peculiar odor.

Go to Doctor

"Dear Dr. Molner: I don't have too much to spend, but I've been wondering. Not always but quite often at the end of the stool there is blood

The above home prices are quoted complete — with all extras included. There are no hidden costs in any building contract we enter. We guarantee both the materials and the method of construction in writing to be exactly as shown in the model home — or make whatever changes you request.

The following sub-contractors are hand picked for their high grade craftsmanship and the recognized top quality of the materials they installed in all modern homes.

FOUNDATION:

JOE VAN DAALWYK performs the expert accurate excavations. BADGER HIGHWAYS supply stone for solid basement sub-flooring and driveways. All mason supplies and materials are by APPLETON CONCRETE PRODUCTS. Quality 500 mix concrete for poured basement walls and floor by VALLEY READY MIX. Extra strong poured concrete basements are by ORIN PETERSON.

MATERIALS:

All materials used in the Sunliners and Starliners are the best obtainable — No. 1 Douglas Fir 2x10 floor joists — all plywood sub-flooring, sheathing, and roof decking. We're happy to be associated with FRASER LUMBER COMPANY who is supplying these top quality materials for all MODERN HOMES. OWEN HARDY performs beautiful sand float plaster work in your choice of colors. Mason specialist NORBERT McHUGH installs all cement walks and driveways. All formica and tile work and inlaid floor covering is by DON ULLRICH FLOOR COVERING. The finest oak cabinets in town are custom crafted by the MEL AUL CABINET SHOP.

UTILITIES:

A PREMIER oil fired forced hot air system with base board registers, installed by GILBERT HEATING SERVICE is the heart of every home we build. One hundred ampere service, with automatic circuit breakers, by STEPHENSON ELECTRICAL SERVICE supplies full house power. Your choice of AMERICAN STANDARD or CRANE fixtures are skillfully installed by BLACK CREEK PLUMBING & HEATING — Harold E. Dey. Both homes feature all copper plumbing and 66 gallon class lined water heaters.

County, Chamber Backing North Central Mail Pay

Flights Cannot be Added Unless Subsidy Is Okayed, Airline Says

Outagamie county and the Appleton Chamber of Commerce agree with North Central Airlines, Inc., that the Fox Cities are discriminated against because no air mail subsidies are paid North Central for its flights here.

North Central, in a letter from Vice President Frank Buttomer to Gordon Bubolz, chairman of the Citizens Aviation Advisory committee, says that only three cities of the more than 60 it serves are not on the mail payment list. The three are Rockford, Ill., and Appleton.

The county may send someone to Washington, D. C., to ask for subsidies, says Mark Catlin, airport committee chairman, and Raymond P. Dohr, corporation counsel, has filed a protest with the civil aeronautics board.

Buttomer

Chamber Favors
The Appleton Chamber is writing the CAB, supporting North Central's position, says Gus Zuehlke, chamber president.

North Central says that it would add flights to the single round trip now serving the area if it could get airmail subsidies. Says the airline, "By the very nature of this business you cannot operate a DC-3 aircraft without losing money unless some remuneration is received for carrying mail."

It is understood North Central receives a payment for the Minneapolis - Clintonville segment, none for Clintonville - Appleton, payment for Chicago-Oshkosh, none for Oshkosh-Appleton. Also, the airline says, there will be no mail payments on any additional flights for the Fox Cities, hence the firm's reluctance to add them.

North Central Side
The airline's position, as stated by Buttomer, is that "the civil aeronautics board ordered us to serve Appleton with two round trips a day via a very questionable route, to which we took exception. Beyond this the board's decision made no provision to provide financial remuneration for the operation."

"In its decision, the board ordered us to provide the service with existing flights. This, again, was impossible because there were no existing flights without diverting service from Oshkosh and Green Bay, which we did on one round trip a day. . . . Taking any more service out of these cities for Appleton is completely out of the question."

New Flight?
"The second alternative is to add a completely new flight between Chicago and Appleton. However, no provisions were made for mail pay. . . . As much as we would like to give you more service, some way or other this detail must be worked out in Washington so we will receive our usual remuneration for the flight."

"This company receives mail pay and a subsidy for providing two round trips a day to every city (except three) on our system. "Why should Appleton be discriminated against with no subsidy for any flight whatsoever, when every other city in the community receives a minimum of two round trips a day?"

Buttomer says he plans to be in Washington in the next week to make a personal appeal to the board.

Appleton Man Fined $26 at Weyauwega
Weyauwega — Robert Hodgden, 2619 N. Richmond street, Appleton, was fined $26.20 for speeding and passing on a hill.

E. C. Hilfert, Mill Executive, Dead at 72

ident of the board in December, 1953.

At the time of his death he also was a director and treasurer of the Appleton Building and Loan association.

Mr. Hilfert became affiliated with Riverside Paper corporation in 1919 after service in the navy in World war I and after having served as cashier of the old Citizens National bank. He became president of the corporation Nov. 22, 1949, succeeding the late C. B. Clark, and stepping up from the vice presidency.

He also was a past director of the Wisconsin Paper group and currently was a director of the Spaulding Pulp and Paper company, Newberg, Ore.

Hilfert served as a director of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce for nine years during the 1930's and '40's, headed two chamber financial and membership drives and either served on or headed most of the major chamber committees. His principal chamber interests were industrial and membership development.

Paper Industry
Hilfert also was a member of the executive committee of the Wisconsin Paper and Pulp Manufacturers' Traffic association and a member of the executive committee of the information service of the Wisconsin Paper industry.

At time of his death he was a member of Riverview Country club. Formerly he also had been affiliated with Butte des Morts Golf club, of which he was a charter member, and North Shore Golf club.

In addition to his business affiliations he was a member of the American Legion and the Appleton Elks club. In later years he had been an enthusiastic yachtsman, keeping his boat at Sturgeon Bay. Older friends remember him as an accomplished pianist.

The survivors include five nephews and two nieces.

Former Green Bay Music Teacher Dies

Chilton — Mrs. Ervin Nolan, 57, Chilton, formerly a music teacher in Green Bay, died at 11:35 a.m. Friday in Fond du Lac after a long illness. With her husband she had operated the Chilton Greenhouse in Chilton for about 10 years until the business was sold to her son.

Mrs. Nolan was born in Bay Settlement May 12, 1902, and was graduated from St. Joseph academy, Green Bay, with a degree in music.

Funeral services will be held at 9:30 a.m. Monday at the St. Mary Catholic church, Chilton. Burial will be in the parish cemetery. Friends may call at the Pfeffer Funeral home after 2 p.m. Sunday. The rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Sunday at the funeral home.

Survivors are the widower; one daughter, Mrs. John C. Brown, Vernon, Pa.; two sons, Robert, Chilton, and Ervin, Jr., Albuquerque, N.M.; three brothers, the Rev. Edward LeMieux, retired, Bay Settlement; Fred LeMieux, Fla.; and Mose, Green Bay; and two sisters, Mrs. Florence Jorgensen, Arlington Heights, Ill.; and Mrs. Ed Van Lanen, Bay Settlement; and 13 grandchildren.

Dean Johnson, 11, Son of Mrs. Nora Johnson, 711 N. Owaissa street, was his own chipper self Friday night as he watched television with his dog, Sheila. The 6th grade student at Morgan school became seriously ill on Aug. 23, two days after he accidentally gulped water when he slipped in the Bellaire park ravine creek while wading. Authorities are trying to determine if the water could have caused the illness.

Try to Learn if Ravine Water Made Boy Sick

Health Officials Making Tests After

Dean Johnson, 11, Fell in Bellaire Park

Did water from the storm sewer in Bellaire park ravine almost claim its second victim?

Mrs. Nora Johnson, 711 N. Owaissa street, whose son, Dean, 11, spent a week in the hospital, believes so. She can find no other reason why her boy became suddenly violently ill soon after he accidentally gulped some water there on Aug. 21 when he slipped on some wet rocks.

Dean was back home in time for school, and by Friday he was his chipper self again, but from Aug. 24 to Aug. 30 he was a sick boy.

Dean, his brother, Richard, 12, and sister, Bronna-Jo, 9, and a friend, Darryl Sommers, 12, 701 N. Owaissa street, were wading in the ravine creek late that Friday afternoon near the spot where Mike Wallace, who was 7, and Pat Crowe, who was 5, drank some water several years ago. The Wallace boy died and Pat became violently ill with symptoms similar to those which afflicted Dean Johnson.

(Parents of the Wallace and Crowe boys sued the city and won judgment totalling $8,068. Mrs. Johnson says she doesn't want to sue anyone, but hopes the ravine situation will be corrected if the water was at fault for her boy's illness.)

Slipped, Fell
Dean said he fell backward as he was wading in waist-deep water and inadvertently gulped some of it. He spit some of the water out, he says, but some went down. As he scrambled to his feet, he cut the ball of his right foot on some glass and scratched his ankle.

The next day, Saturday, the boy was feeling out of sorts, but it was nothing particularly unusual, his mother says. Sunday morning the boy began vomiting and complained of headache, earache and stomach cramps. His temperature went up to 106, his mother says, and she called the family doctor, who gave him an enema with aspirin and left orders to keep in touch with him.

Soon the boy developed diarrhea. At 6 o'clock Monday morning Richard woke his mother and told her Dean had vomited several times. She found he also was bleeding from the rectum and his temperature was only 95. She called the doctor again, who ordered him into the hospital.

He was placed in isolation and fed intravenously and given various shots.

Was it the Water?

It was not until Tuesday night, Aug. 25, that Mrs. Johnson suspected the water might have caused the illness. Bronna-Jo asked, "Could it have been the water he swallowed?"

"What water?" Mrs. Johnson asked, and her children unfolded the story.

On her doctors' instructions, Mrs. Johnson notified the Appleton health department. She and Mrs. Martin Sommers, her son Darryl, and Pat Crowe, who was visiting Darryl, went to the ravine and took water samples in tin cans, only to learn sterile containers were needed. Dr. D. L. Jones, of the health office, went with Mrs. Johnson to the spot to get water samples to send to Madison.

Bronna-Jo also developed earache and soreness about the jaw a few days after Dean was hospitalized, but antibiotics and drops prescribed by the doctor cleared it up, Mrs. Johnson said.

Bronna-Jo got her face and head wet in the ravine water, but had swallowed none, the children said.

Investigation Continues
The family physician and Appleton health department have exchanged oral and written communications and the investigation is continuing.

Results of a first water sample test taken by Dr. Jones show the coliform index was 10,000 (indicating bacteria present, but in an amount normal for any stream). Tests for typhoid and Salmonella (bacteria associated with an intestinal inflammation in animals) were negative.

The doctor's report to Dr. Marvin Kagen, city health officer, shows staphylococcus, Pseudomonas and E. coli (various types of bacteria) were isolated from the boy's stool at the hospital.

Investigation by Dr. Jones and an employee of the city engineer's office show that certain chemicals are discharged from Appleton Coated Paper company into the

275 Register for Paper Symposium

TAPPI Meeting to Consider Fiber Attraction, Bonding

An overflow registration of about 275 technical men of the pulp and paper industry has been received for the 3-day symposium opening Wednesday on fiber attraction and bonding. It is sponsored by the fundamental research and wet strength and interfiber bonding committees of the Technical Association of the Pulp and Paper Industry.

The large attendance will require erection of a tent and loudspeaker installation to handle the overflow from the institute's auditorium. Several different subjects, have been held at the institute over the years. Registrations have been received from 25 states and six foreign countries.

General chairmen of the symposium, in the works for just less than a year, are Dr. Roy P. Whitney, dean of the institute, and John W. Swanson, of the institute's physical chemistry department.

First Session
Morning session Wednesday will be chairmanned by Dr. Whitney and features technical papers by Dr. Alfred H. Nissan, Rensselaer Polytechnic institute, Troy, N. Y., fundamentals of adhesion; Dr. J. A. Van den Akker, institute, structural aspects of bonding, and Ben Radwan and George O'Blenes, Wiggins Teape Group Research organization, Beaconsfield, Bucks, England, and principles of web adhesion on the papermaking machine.

Afternoon session Wednesday will be chairmanned by R. N. Griesheimer, the Mead corporation, Chillicothe, Ohio, and features Dr. W. L. Ingmanson and S. T. Han, institute, fiber agglomeration and dewatering; W. Brecht and H. Erfurt, Institut für Papierfabrikation, Technische Hochschule Darmstadt, Germany, wet web strength; and A. Robertson, Pulp and Paper Research Institute of Canada, Montreal, some aspects of wet web behavior.

Thursday morning session city sewer system, all of which are non-poisonous and diluted by the time they reach the ravine.

"... It would appear from what we know now that we could not consider the plant refuse as a source of the problem," Dr. Jones reports.

Surcharge?
Investigation of the sewer system in the area has not turned up any evidence the system is faulty. There is a possibility that sewage might surcharge through manhole covers and over the surrounding ground when heavy rain falls. Dr. Jones has recommended that possibility should be checked and that further periodic tests of the water should be made, even if two additional samples taken Sept. 2 prove negative. Reports on those tests probably will be available early next week.

Cuts Healed
Mrs. Johnson says Dean's foot cuts and another cut and scratch he received a few days before the ravine incident when his bicycle ran into a tree did not appear to be serious and healed without evidence of anything unusual.

She knows of nothing in the family diet or of anything else Dean ate which might have made him ill. Because she can find no other explanation, and because the symptoms and illness were so similar to those which afflicted the Wallace and Crowe boys, she believes the water accidentally swallowed from the ravine creek might be the cause. "I don't want to take the city to court, but I do think that hole should be cleaned up," she says. "I don't want to sue anybody. I do hope they'll give me a fair, complete report when the investigation is finished."

Student Injured in School Shop Mishap Undergoes Surgery

Combined Locks — Duane Vanden Boogaard, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Vanden Boogaard, 105 Lom street, underwent surgery at St. Elizabeth hospital Friday. Vanden Boogaard was injured Jan. 30 in a shop accident at Kimberly High school when he was struck in the back of the head with a wooden disc which broke loose from a lathe.

The student was in critical condition after the mishap and spent several months in the hospital recuperating. The latest surgery is designed to repair head injuries suffered in the accident.

Swanson and Dr. Kurath, all of the institute, mechanism of retention of resin additives, and Paul J. McLaughlin, Rohm and Haas company, Philadelphia, Pa., elastomeric binders.

A luncheon with a talk by John G. Strange, institute president, will be held at Riverview Country club Friday noon.

The closing session of the symposium Friday afternoon will consist of a panel of all speakers, moderated by Dr. Swanson, summarizing the meeting.

Columnist Says Movie Code May be Revised

West Coast Protestant Church Group's Idea for Boycott Cited as Reason

BY JINGO Mike Connolly, syndicated Hollywood columnist, believes the recently relaxed motion picture production code will be tightened.

He says film's watchdogs of the morals of the movies — the code administrators — are worried about a proposed formation of a Protestant version of the Roman Catholic Legion of Decency.

The proposed Protestant version is hinted at in a statement by an 18-member clerical committee of the National Council of Churches of Christ on the west coast.

Committeemen said they would seek a moratorium on film attendance at such movies ("Pillow Talk," "Blue Denim," "It Started with a Kiss," "Anatomy of a Murder" and others).

To Jingo's way of thinking, it all depends on what you mean by "tighten."

An upcoming film which certainly will focus attention on the church group's concern is Darryl F. Zanuck's planned "The Chapman Report." It's the Irving Wallace's latest novel and is based on the Kinsey report on "The Sexual Life of the American Female."

F. W. Demara, Jr. Turns Legitimate, To Act in Movies
New York —(AP)—Ferdinand W. Demara, Jr. — the "great imposter" — will soon be a movie actor. But he says his film role will be a minor one. He said he had been signed by Allied Artists for a small part in a forthcoming film and that he probably would be engaged to travel around the country publicizing the movie. Demara attributed this turn of fortune to publicity he received in an appearance on the Jack Paar program. Demara, 37-year-old native of Lawrence, Mass., has spent years in various places in and out of the country posing as everything from a doctor to schoolteacher. In many cases he carried out the duties of the respective pursuits for some time before being unmasked.

Lawrence Says Desire for Liberty Will Be Red Undoing

Nikita Mistaken On U. S. Resolution To Defy Tyranny

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington—Nikita Khrushchev must think the American people are dumb or naive and can readily be deceived. There seems to be no other logical explanation for the hypocritical article which he wrote for "Foreign Affairs," a quarterly magazine published by the Council on Foreign Relations of New York City, a private group of citizens interested in the discussion of international problems.

In that article, Mr. Khrushchev demands that the free world accept as an accomplished fact the conquest of eastern Europe by the Soviet armies and the continued enslavement of the "captive nations," including such formerly independent countries as Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Rumania and Hungary. These, he says in effect, must remain forever under the military domination and duress of the Communist government in Moscow.

The Soviet Premier says that the resolution adopted by the congress of the United States a few weeks ago, declaring its sympathy with the "captive nations," was "an act of provocation." He then proceeds to suggest sarcastically that Americans would have been similarly annoyed "if the parliament of Mexico had passed a resolution demanding that Texas, Arizona and California be liberated from American slavery."

Actually, very few people would be annoyed today if that happened. In fact, a resolution by any democratic government on the subject of free elections would be welcomed because it probably would urge that the United Nations be asked to conduct free elections—such as have been held regularly for more than a century in Arizona, California and Texas—so that the people of the various states of the Soviet Union itself, as well as the "captive" states, could determine what government they wish to govern them.

Mr. Khrushchev hopes the world will forget that he himself ordered his foreign minister at the recent Geneva conference to turn down the plan offered by Britain, France and the United States that an election be held in both East and West Germany to let the German people choose a single government. Mr. Khrushchev defines "peaceful co-existence" as "apart from the commitment to non-aggression, it presupposes an obligation on the part of all states to desist from violating each other's territorial integrity and sovereignty in any form and under any pretext whatsoever. The principle of co-existence signifies a renunciation of interference in the internal affairs of other countries with the object of altering their system of government or mode of life or for any other motives. Yet how would the Soviet premier justify the Soviet's sending of munitions of war to attack and invade the independent Korean republic, or the dispatch of arms to help Communist sympathizers to destroy the national government on the mainland of China? How would he classify the dispatch of arms to the Middle East by the Soviet government to intensify friction between the countries there? And how would the Soviet premier characterize the invasion of India and Laos this summer by communist forces, or the recent overthrow of the constituted government of Tibet? Would he ignore the fact that in every case there was a violation of the territorial integrity and sovereignty of other nations by Soviet imperialism? Apparently Mr. Khrushchev thinks the American people are not well informed on what has been happening in the "cold war" in the last few

Car Damaged in Rear End Crash

Waupaca — A car driven by Charles R. Nelson, 55, of 224 Union street, Manawa, was damaged in the rear when hit one half mile east of Sheridan on Highway 10 Thursday morning. Nelson was slowing down and pulling on the shoulder when a truck driven by Bruce R. King, Jr., 21, of 201 Locust street, St., Hudson, struck him, county police reported. Police estimated damage to both vehicles at $100.

had better read American history and note that from the earliest days of this republic there were men who cried out, "Give me liberty or give me death." That's what will eventually prove the undoing of Nikita Khrushchev and his gangster regime as the peoples of the captive countries, including peoples in parts of the Soviet Union like the Ukraine, will some day rise up to demand their freedom and independence. History is not "irreversible," as Mr. Khrushchev claims. (Copyright, 1959)

Presidential Veto Power

Those persons who have been predicting that a president in his second term, prohibited by the Constitution from succeeding himself, would have no authority over Congress or indeed over the members of his own party must have been astonished when the all-out Democratic drive to overturn the president's veto of the "pork barrel" bill failed by one vote. It was a dramatic victory for President Eisenhower and for good government. It was made all the more spectacular and interesting by the desperate attempts of the Democratic leadership to defeat the president.

The president's power was given a severe test. The test came on a public works measure in which practically every member of the House had a direct interest. In the confusion and excitement of the vote three Republicans who had voted to override and who undoubtedly thought their best political interest was in that direction, nevertheless changed their votes in the last moment to support the president. Before the result of the vote could be announced, the Democratic leadership demanded a recapitulation which was granted. This required the reading of the names of all who had voted, thus giving the Democratic leadership time to put heavy pressure on the six Democrats who voted to support the president.

Speaker Sam Rayburn, who had predicted a victory over the president by a narrow margin, put all his power and authority into making his prediction come true. Nevertheless he failed. The six Democrats stood fast, three Republicans who had wavered returned to the Republican fold and the president's record of never having had a veto overturned was sustained.

However, the president was not out to show his authority over Congress. He had vetoed the bill for a very sound reason. In his veto message he had pointed out that 67 projects not recommended by the budget bureau were included in the program. He said that the $50 million cost of these projects was not too great, but that eventually the projects would cost $800 millions. Thus, he said, Congress and the president stood to lose control of federal spending by inclusion of such measures. His argument was sound and it is to the everlasting credit of the 274 members who voted to support him that they did so.

There may be a good reason for advocating the repeal of the constitutional amendment limiting presidents to two terms, but the claim that the president in his final term is without authority in his party or over Congress is certainly not one of them.

The American Legion on Khrushchev

The American Legion, in convention at Minneapolis, voted to accept "with dignity" the visit of Soviet Premier Khrushchev to the United States next month. This is obviously the proper stand for a patriotic organization to take. It is a situation where the president of the United States, with the support of the State department and of our western allies, has invited Khrushchev here for a visit. We are committed to the visit of Khrushchev to the United States and later of Mr. Eisenhower to Russia and there is nothing to be done about that.

We do not know what the result of these visits will be but we do know there is an element of danger in them. We have a chance to gain from them and likewise there is a possibility that we could lose a great deal should we miff our chance. The American Legion had good advice on this resolution from Vice President Nixon who recently visited Russia, and from Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.), majority leader of the senate.

Mr. Nixon believes that Khrushchev has some very serious misconceptions of the United States. He says Khrushchev is convinced that millions of Americans do not support President Eisenhower in his firm stand against communism. He thinks we would win a great deal if Khrushchev could be shown some of the great military power of the United States and that greatest of all powers which is the complete support of the president by the people. The best way to do that, he thinks, is to give Khrushchev a courteous reception, thus acting in accordance with the wishes of President Eisenhower who believes it is of the greatest importance that Khrushchev be given civilized treatment in America.

Sen. Johnson also assured the Legionnaires that there was no danger that Khrushchev could contaminate the American people, and he declared that it will be in our best interest to "see to it that Khrushchev will have a true picture of our country, a true picture of our people and our purpose."

The American Legion is one of the most widespread organizations in the United States. Its proposal to receive the Russian premier with dignity is advice to every member of the Legion and it is seriously to be hoped that they will abide by this ruling and use their influence to see that all others understand the proposal and do likewise.

Why Integration Must be Gradual

Advocates of immediate and complete integration in southern schools and other institutions may be stunned to learn that some Negro families in New York city are sending their youngsters south to segregated schools to be educated.

A New York Times reporter found that Negroes who recently have come north often have family ties in the South they do not want to sever. Others are alarmed at the friends their children have made in New York schools, the high rate of delinquency particularly in some of the areas inhabited by Negro families, the split sessions in northern schools and other examples of what is felt to be poorer educational opportunities, remembered advantages of the old small town life and a heightening of racial tensions in the North. A Negro minister explained that for many it is "simpler to educate children in the old culture than to make the new, confusing city culture relevant to the lives of their children."

The pressures of the NAACP for integration on all levels of American society have overshadowed the apparent realization of many Negroes that throwing out the old, segregated way is not alone the answer to the unfortunate position of the Negro in the United States. These people who have lived with the humiliation of second class citizenship nevertheless feel that children particularly need roots and traditions. The heritage of segregation is immoral and constitutionally wrong just as slavery was wrong, but its sudden dissolution can lead to injustices and chaos. Observers in many Asian and African countries have noted that the hasty removal of colonial rule or the ending of old religious rituals and hierarchies have left vacuums which communist opportunists are quick to fill.

Any radical change in social custom must come gradually if it is to be accomplished with a minimum of pain. It is obvious from the examples in New York that some Negroes prefer the stability of the southern system during these years of upheaval to the snobbery, insecurity and violence accompanying the influx of Negroes in the North. Thus we can see again the wisdom of the Supreme Court's order that integration in the South must take place with "deliberate speed," which is exactly what is happening. The gradual, though unstoppable, spreading of integration from the border states southward represents the correct solution to this difficult problem.

Snow Law Prompts Exchange of Letters

Here is an exchange of letters between taxpayer Albert J. Muench, 624 Winnebago Heights, Neenah, and Chester S. Bell, mayor of Neenah. The letters were sent to the Post-Crescent for publication.

Honorable Mayor:

I, too, smile at your "Christmas in September" theme, which according to the newspaper, caused your making a "humorous note."

As a citizen of Neenah, I will continue to pay my taxes, support community projects and abide by the ordinances laid out by our esteemed aldermanic group whether it be in regard to snow or any other situation. I will be more than happy to keep my driveway snow off your streets, if you, in turn, will keep your street snow out of my driveway.

Please convey this opinion to the aldermen of our fair city.

Albert J. Muench

This is Mayor Bell's answer:

Dear Mr. Muench: I have your letter of Sept. 3 regarding the new ordinance prohibiting citizens to push into the street snow from inside the lot lines of their property. As requested, I am referring your letter to the street and sanitation committee which originated the new ordinance.

Like you, I have often cleaned my driveway only to have a city plow pile snow from the street across the entrance — and I have sputtered resentfully.

But the new ordinance is not aimed at the citizen who pushes back into the street the snow piled across the entrance to his driveway by the city plows. This actually is not a violation of the ordinance.

Many citizens, including filling stations, churches, and private business people have made a practice of pushing the snow from their private parking areas or long private driveways across the street where it piles up, narrowing the roadway and creating a traffic hazard. It is this practice at which the ordinance is aimed.

With this explanation, perhaps you will feel the new ordinance is not unreasonable or inconsiderate of the rights of citizens.

BY CURTIS DAHL

In 1900 the United States had an inferiority complex. It had come of age in practical affairs. It had developed, as Franklin W. Smith of Boston pointed out in his petition to congress, the world's best form of government. For a century its energies and skills and intelligence had been devoted to material development. But the nation had erected no temple of culture.

To remedy the nation's cultural and intellectual inferiority, Smith, a former

Today's grand scale city planners might well stand in awe of a Mr. Smith who went to Washington about 60 years ago and calmly proposed to transform the place into such a magnificent center of architecture and art that no American would ever again be tempted to travel abroad for the sake of culture. This fascinating account of the project was written by a Wheaton college professor who got interested in it while studying Pompeian excavations.

hardware merchant, proposed one of the most grandiose schemes that has ever been seriously suggested. His intention was to transform Washington, D. C., into a capital of such beauty and cultural advantage that never again would an American be tempted to go abroad for artistic or intellectual reasons.

Nor was this only the idle dream of a crackpot. Smith's petition to congress was presented to the senate Feb. 12, 1900. It was supported, as letters to Smith indicate, by a number of prominent men from all over the country.

In keeping with the grandiose architecture of his time, Smith's designs called for a potpourri of ancient styles.

On a hill at the head of Twenty-Fourth street, he proposed to build an American acropolis. At the summit was to stand a great memorial temple of the presidents of the United States, an exact replica of the Parthenon but one-half larger.

In this vast American Valhalla were to be displayed statues and portraits of all the nation's chief executives. On the walls would be pictured the struggles through which these great men rose from obscurity to fame.

Miles of History

The acropolis, however, in all its concrete grandeur (everything was to be built not of marble but of cast cement) is perhaps not so revealing of the ideas and taste of 1900 as the galleries of history and art that were to accompany it.

Smith's galleries were to constitute "a great systematic educational institution" which would teach Americans of their cultural heritage from Europe. They were particularly designed to satisfy the thirst for Old World culture of the legions of American school teachers too poor to travel abroad.

Terraced down the slope in front of the acropolis were to stand eight galleries, each one representing in its architecture and contents one of the eight great civilizations of the past: Egyptian, Assyrian, Greek, Roman, Byzantine, Medieval, Saracenic, and East Indian.

Since walking through so many miles of gallery would be hard on the feet, Smith charitably suggested the installation of slowly moving seats, some facing each way, on which the visitor would be effortlessly drawn along the main corridors. The galleries and courtyards could be completely filled with art for $2 million beyond their total construction cost of $8 million.

Like many other Americans of his day, Smith was less concerned with pure art than with historical and patriotic education. Hence, he proposed to line the central corridors of his galleries with miles of large paintings of the highest historical accuracy painted in the most detailed and realistic style possible. These paintings were to be arranged so as to give a complete pictorial history of each of the civilizations with special attention to the depiction of events calculated to stimulate patriotism and good morals.

Bigger Than Life

In the side corridors were to be casts and models illustrating the statuary and architecture and domestic furnishings of past ages. But unlike the museums of Europe, the national galleries were to have no broken or imperfect objects. Everything was to be restored to its original state. It was a silly prejudice, Smith thought, to insist on originals.

Smith thus planned to ransack the galleries of Europe for objects to be reproduced in plaster. Where as each of them had only a few great works, his galleries would have all. Never again would an American in search of art have to go to Rome or Berlin or London.

Smith, himself a maker of models, was not to be content with small-scale models or partial reconstructions.

Franklin W. Smith

The galleries were to be modeled after ancient buildings. But Smith gave most emphasis to the full size models of complete buildings he proposed to construct (also of concrete) in the courtyard of each gallery.

Since the acropolis and national galleries were intended as more than mere patriotic monuments or even museums of history, they would have considerable staffs attached to them. But the most impressive employees of the galleries would be the professors of art, history, and archaeology, each one skilled in his own field. They would lecture in costume, "enlightening" the incidents illustrated in the miles of historical pictures and drawings. What could be more striking or more morally instructive than the Roman historian "robed in the inimitably graceful folds of the toga," quoting from the rostrum the sonorous Latin of Cicero's oration against Catiline?

Huge as they were to be, the American acropolis and national galleries were to be only the center of rebuilt and "aggrandized" Washington. Washington was to emerge the most beautiful city in the world, with a new national museum, a national pavilion, a grander White House and a completely new Pennsylvania avenue constructed along classical lines.

Worked 50 Years

A plan of this magnitude, elaborated in detail, was obviously not the work of a day. For 50 years Smith had labored over it. Though not an architect, he had a hobby of making models of famous buildings. Seeking to retain his memories of sights he had seen on his trip abroad, as early as 1851 he had built little scale models of such edifices as Kenilworth castle, Holyrood palace, and the Porta Maggiore.

As the years went on, he added to his collection Chinese pagodas, East Indian temples, the city of Wittenberg, and a host of others.

It was in 1888-1889, however, that his propensity for model-making came into full flower. It was then that Smith built in Saratoga Springs his Pompeii or House of Pansa, a full-scale completely furnished reconstruction of one of the villas described in Bulwer-Lytton's "The Last Days of Pompeii." For many years this was a prime attraction to sightseers.

Smith waited until 1898 to launch his full-fledged campaign. Then, with the backing of merchant and philanthropist S. Walter Woodward of Washington, he erected in an old skating rink on New York avenue his Halls of the Ancients, which (though huge) were small examples of what he intended the national galleries to be.

Builds Sample Halls

The halls, whose portal was a brilliantly painted reconstruction in full scale of the Hypostyle Hall of Karnak with columns 70 feet high and 12 feet in diameter, included an Egyptian hall of gods and kings, a complete

Ike Travels in Good Health; Is Nikita as Sound?

From The Wichita, Kan., Eagle

Presidential Press Sec. Jim Hagerty says his boss is equipped with perfect health for the heavy schedule that confronts him the rest of this year. He is touring Europe now and will go to Russia later. But the Hagerty pronouncement suggests Ike isn't traveling for his health in the strict sense of the word.

Reports cast doubt on Premier Khrushchev's health. He huffs and puffs some under physical exertion and has cut down on his liquor consumption. But the Soviets would be the last to admit that Mr. K. will be traveling to the United States for his health.

Over here we have confidence that Mr. Eisenhower is traveling for the health of the peoples of the world. Is it too much to hope that the Russian might claim a berth aboard his plane with some such thought in mind, too?

Roman house modeled after those of Vettius and Pansa in Pompeii, an Assyrian throne room with casts of slabs brought back from Nineveh, and a reconstruction of the Moorish patio in the House of Benasquin in Tangiers.

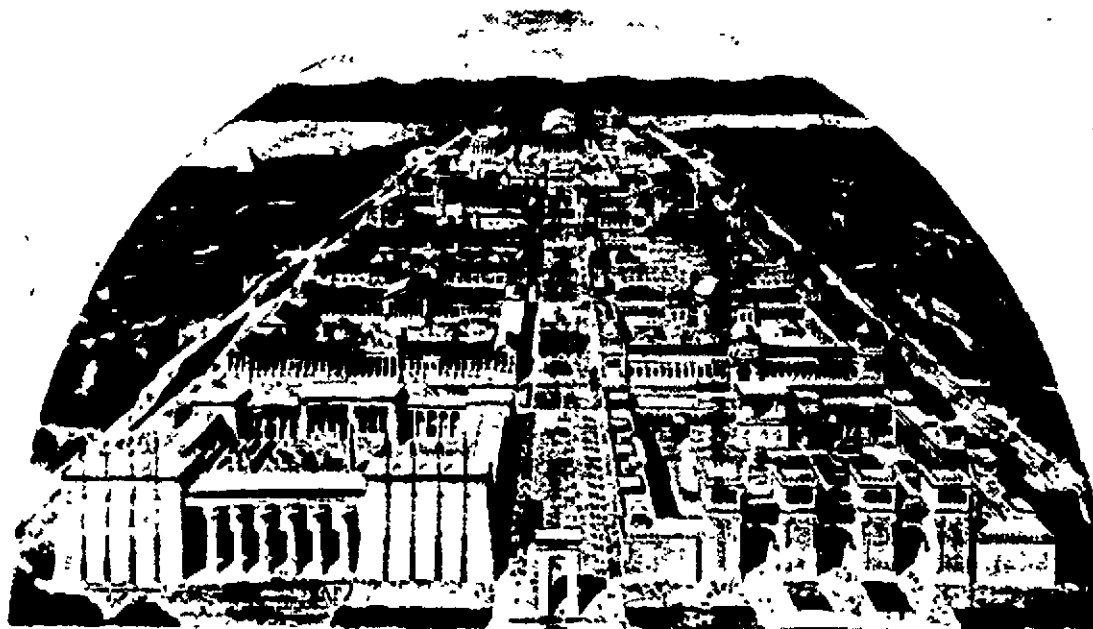

Today, so much have tastes changed, Smith's proposals sound utterly fantastic. It is hard to believe how seriously they were taken at the beginning of the century.

Smith requested and received letters of support from the secretary of the navy, the speaker of the house, the president of the National Education association, and numerous senators, businessmen, and educators. Numbers of foreign scholars, directors of museums, and experts of various kinds corresponded with him in all seriousness. What is even more impressive is that he received commendation and help from the architectural profession.

As far as can be ascertained, Smith's petition with its attendant proposals was never reported out of the senate committee on the District of Columbia. Perhaps the senators of those days had no artistic taste, or perhaps they had too much. Like his scheme, Smith himself fell upon hard times. In 1908 all his projects — in Washington, Saratoga Springs, and St. Augustine — were foreclosed. By the time of his death in obscurity in 1911, his dreams of "alabaster cities" had been wholly shattered. Washington, alas, as yet shows no signs of becoming the new Athens of the world.

Franklin Webster Smith's over-all design for national galleries of history and art in Washington got no further than the artist's drafting board, although it received wide support in 1900 when presented in petition form to congress. Proposed to be situated on the banks of the Potomac, the American acropolis at the rear would be dominated by a memorial temple of the presidents of the United States. On each side of the via sacra, center, were to stand immense galleries and courts representing the eight great civilizations of the East. Smith planned to cram them full of copies of the finest works of art at a total cost of $10 million.

Hook and Line Season for Sturgeon Opens

Fishing in State Will Continue Through Oct. 18

Madison — Wisconsin's biggest game fish, sturgeon, can be taken legally by hook and line fishermen in many state waters starting today.

The season for rock and lake sturgeon will run through Oct. 18.

The Lake Winnebago waters where the sturgeon are best known because they can be speared through the ice are closed to summer fishermen.

There is no sturgeon fishing allowed on Winnebago, Lakes Poygan, Winneconne, Butte des Morts and Little Lake Butte des Morts and connecting waters downstream to the uppermost dam in Appleton; the Wolf river from the dam at Shawano down stream to Poygan; and the Fox river downstream from Johnson Creek to Lake Butte des Morts.

All other inland waters are open to sturgeon fishing. The bag limit is two per season, 30 or more inches in length in most waters. Tags, costing $1, must be affixed to each legal fish.

Wardens report that the best sturgeon fishing is a 15-mile stretch on the Wisconsin river between Portage and the Whalen Grade; deep water below the dam at Wisconsin Dells and the Menominee, Chippewa and Flambeau rivers.

Fishing May Come Into Conflict With Other Growing Forms of Water Usage Around Wisconsin

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison—A far-reaching new concept of outdoors resource regulation is involved in Gov. Nelson's demand for regulation of water skiing.

The governor had talked about a system of water recreation zoning since his inauguration but in such general terms that relatively few of the interest groups that will be involved had paid much notice.

Now he has shown that he wants control legislation, at least in preliminary form, presented to the legislature this fall and the conservation department is busying itself with plans for making such controls effective for the water sports season of next year.

Officials of the department are aware that the promulgation of such water use rules won't be easy.

Conservation Director Lester P. Voigt has carefully explained that his department intends to hold public hearings, before the enabling legislation for water use controls is drafted for legislative consideration.

Those hearings may be expected to put on the record the diverse and often conflicting interests of water sports enthusiasts, as well as the interests of the resort proprietors and others who cater to them.

Chances are that the first law will be written carefully, with limited application, and that the actual rules to be written under it will be confined to a few problem lakes for demonstration and education purposes.

Historically Wisconsin sports fishermen and state conservation policy-makers have tended to assume that the sports fishery is the primary point of concern in lake management and regulation.

But there are now thousands of Wisconsin residents and tourist visitors who are as much interested in boating, and related activities such as water skiing, as they are in hooking pike and bass.

Some of the resort proprietors of the northern Wisconsin tourist zones have noticed that change of emphasis among their visitors and have been openly troubled about the problems of attracting and retaining their guests in the face of conflicting sports enthusiasms.

The governor has based his proposal upon his personal experiences and upon the attitude of some of his friends in upper Wisconsin.

Racing Boats
He has tended to react to the water use conflicts from the viewpoint of the fisherman—the fisherman whose sport can be spoiled quickly by high-powered racing boats on a fishing lake, or by the disturbance caused by youthful water skiers in the vicinity of a fishing boat.

His own ideas have been shown by his tentative proposals between 7:30 and 9 p. m.

County Conservation Warden Al Pope and State Conservation Warden Rex Oatman will hand out the licenses on Sept. 10 and 17.

State Roundup

Prospects Appear Good for at Least Fair Fishing Over Labor Day

Prospects are shaping up for improved fishing over Labor Day weekend, assuming the weather cooperates.

High water still is a problem, but it is receding and clearing in many areas.

Muskies are doing well in the north, with fish of 37½ pounds, 26 pounds, and 22 pounds reported.

Skilled anglers are taking large native trout on some streams.

Wardens cite many waters on which good fishing is to be had for other species, including northern pike, walleyes, bass, crappies, bluegills, perch and white bass.

Some of the more popular southeastern Wisconsin waters, as in Racine county, have been largely taken over by speedboats and water skiers.

Find Growth Of Muskies Is Variable

Growth of young muskellunge in hatcheries through the yearling stage is highly variable, state investigators have learned.

Recent observations at the Spooner hatchery of the conservation department showed that three month old muskellunge averaged 6.5 inches in length, but ranged from 5.5 to 18.5 inches.

The studies have also shown that the musky young will take live forage at an extremely young stage — if it is available. In the hatcheries the fry will feed on zooplankton from the age of three days, but at two weeks will live almost exclusively on fish forage if it is available in sufficient quantity.

Necedah Archery Shoot Scheduled Sunday, Sept. 13

Bowmen From Over State Will Attend

One of the world's largest archery events, the famed Necedah shoot, will be held Sunday, Sept. 13, at the Necedah hunting field, according to Rod Harrmann, Appleton, of the Wisconsin Bow Hunters association.

The shoot, originally started as a one-day event, actually will begin on Saturday, Harrmann said, to allow those hunters who help set up the course to shoot their scores Saturday afternoon. Bulk of the shooting, however, will be Sunday.

Registration Fee
Registration fee is $1. There will be no changes in the scoring or rules of the shoot over last year's when over 800 people participated, Harrmann said.

A score marker will accompany each group through the entire course, taking a position behind the protective shield at each target. He'll call the name of the person shooting, mark the score and tape the hole on the back of the target.

Camping Room
There's plenty of room for tents and trailers at the Necedah camping ground, according to Harrmann, and the Necedah American Legion is planning a chicken barbecue for Saturday night.

Shooters were told to bring hunting equipment as this is a hunting shoot and only broadheads may be used. "Bring along your blunts, too, for the small game round," Harrmann advises.

Pheasants Released

The Warden Speaks

Game Law Violations Should be Reported

BY CHUCK WRANOSKY
Outagamie County Game Warden

Some people are of the opinion that to give a warden information on a person who is violating the laws in a "squealer" or "stool pigeon".

To the warden, an excellent smallmouth bass fishing can be found on north end of Lake Winnebago near the islands and on reefs.

Wranosky
cause title to all fish and wildlife is vested in the state. Here we might ask "who is the state?" Each and every one of us—which makes us co-owners of the fish and game.

We are quite sure that if someone stole your gun, fishing rod and reel, or your boat, you would report it immediately to the police or sheriff's department, and certainly no one is going to call you a "squealer" or "stool pigeon" for that.

Call In Time
Then, why should the name "squealer" or "stool pigeon" be mentioned when a sportsman is protecting his interests by reporting a violator for stealing fish and game.

Many times we receive information on violators too late and can do nothing about it. The time to act is when the man is violating. Sportsmen each year, who call by phone from the field when they observe violations, see some of these violators arrested a short time later because of the fast means of communication we now have—the two-way radio. Others who were not arrested in the field, upon returning to their homes, found the wardens waiting for them and their illegal game and fish.

When is a violator going to cease his illegal hunting and fishing? Only when he finds out that the true sportsman who has put his time, money, and labor into conservation projects is not going to allow him to steal things that he has interest in. Remember the game law violator is a thief. Report all violations to your local warden. My telephone number is Pleasant 7-5596.

The conservation department is building a library of recorded wild bird breeding-season calls and sounds.

Tape recordings have been made of the sounds of prairie chicken, ruffed grouse, pheasant, quail and mourning doves which can be adapted to several uses, including the training and testing of personnel and the censusing and trapping of bird specimens.

An invitation to see the Shop of August Winter & Sons Co. has been extended by the firm, mechanical contractors in the Fox Cities since 1940. They are located at 1216 W. Wisconsin avenue and the phone number there is RE 4-7144.

Readers have been invited to tour the shop of August Winter & Sons Co., 1216 W. Wisconsin avenue, the firm announced today. This is one of the most modern sheet metal fabricating shops in the Fox River Valley.

Winter said today that most Appleton people will be surprised to see the equipment, used to handle heavy gauge steel sheets and special welding procedures, such as Helium Arc. The firm is a production shop. They still do all custom work, but have set up the major operations on production line methods with modern equipment and assembly line work almost bordering on factory mass production in order to become competitive.

With his two sons, Roy and Walter, and Duane Gable, August Winter has built up his business of heating and air conditioning service for the past 20 years. They can handle any application of heating, ventilating or air conditioning whether it is in industrial, commercial or residential.

Winters claims to have the largest heating service organization in any shop in the Fox River Valley. They service boiler furnaces, oil and gas burners, stokers, many-control arrangements, condensation pumps, vacuum pumps and air conditioners, both air and water coolers.

Stop in and see this modern shop soon at 1216 W. Wisconsin avenue.

Rambler Sales Hit Another High Month

Rambler retail sales shot to a new alltime monthly record last month with deliveries of 43,556 cars, almost triple those of a year ago, it was announced today by Roy Abernethy, vice president of automotive distribution and marketing of American Motors. The record brought sales for the first nine months of the model year to 285, 884 rambles, Abernethy said. That level, with three months yet to go in the model year, is more than the total sold in the preceding two model years combined. The former record month was April, when dealers sold 39,602 Ramblers. Your Rambler dealer is Stebane Nash Sales and Service, Forest Junction, Wis. Phone is Forest Junction, 26.

School Children Need Sturdy Shoes is the advice from Jerry and Bill Lyman of Jerry's Shoe Service, 123 N. Appleton street, where they have a new children's shoe department to serve the needs of the little folks, as well as, new lines of work and dress shoes for men.

Jerry's Shoe Service is known for expert shoe repairing and prompt dependable service. Plenty of experienced help is available at Jerry's. Bill Lyman, who used to own Lyman's Shoe Rebuilders, has been in the dyeing and repair business since 1915. His son, Jerry, says he was "born into the business."

Protect Your Home Before Winter with a new coat of paint that will also spruce it up and give you years of lasting beauty, comes the word of advice from Norm Vander Heyden's Color Shop, 3734 E. Wisconsin avenue, between Appleton and Little Chute. Phone number at the Color Shop is RE 3-2245.

Norm Vander Heyden's Color Shop was formerly known as Appleton Paint Contractors. They feature a complete line of Devco Paints. Devco is the oldest manufacturer of paints in the United States, starting in business in 1754. Devco is also one of the largest manufacturers of paint in this country. Along with stock of Devco paint, the firm also handles a complete line of paint accessories and the very latest in new style wall paper.

The "Moen Faucet" Has Come to Appleton and Lake Plumbing and Heating company has it. This new plumbing fixture is a single handle faucet and uses one handle for all operations. Finger tip pressure on the attractively styled single lever raises or lowers it to adjust the flow of water. Moving the handle right or left allows precise adjustment of water temperature from cold to hot. In addition to greater convenience, the new faucet offers a bonus of extra safety as it reduces the risk of scalding since the user can see the temperature of water as he sets the faucet. Carl H. Bauer, owner and manager of the Lake Plumbing and Heating company which is located at the Waverly Beach corner, says he will give you free estimates on any plumbing or heating work which you might have in mind. Bauer has issued an invitation to come out and see his show room or call him at RE 3-2104.

Moen Single-Handle Faucet Boon for Busy Housewives

Moen single-handle faucet proves its extra convenience. The one handle gives you complete control of water flow and temperature. Raising or lowering the handle easily adjusts the volume. Moving it to right or left precisely selects the right temperature. And, this simple adjustment can be easily made with wrist, arm or elbow when hands are full... a special boon when hands are dirty or greasy. See the Moen faucet advertising twice a week in the Post-Crescent.

From Filmy Lingerie to Diapers and work clothes, the 1960 Fridaire automatic washers and dryers will do your laundry safely and automatically, according to Home Appliance company, 225 W. College avenue. Telephone number at Home Appliance is RE 3-4406.

The announcement of the new automatic home laundry equipment was made today by Edwin Hoersch, owner of Home Appliance. He stressed that although completely automatic, the machines are so flexible that the homemaker can wash clothes any way she chooses. Any phase of the operation can be stopped, shortened, lengthened or skipped at any time.

All new vented dryers in the line feature a new drying system with a full sweep of radiant heat which provides more efficient, faster and more uniform drying than ever before. A new handy lint trap, especially easy to remove and clean, fits inside the door of these dryers.

A wash and wear cycle is a convenience feature that has been incorporated into all new Fridaire washers and dry-

Peach, Blueberry, Pumpkin, Mincemeat, Strawberry, Pineapple or Apple, each can of Pie Filling is completely ready to pour into an 8 or 9 inch pie-crust, with the exception of the Pumpkin Pie Filling, which contains eggs but calls for the addition of 2 of a cup of milk.

A luscious Comstock pie is as festive for a company dinner as it is quick and easy for a busy-day family meal. Each Filling contains top quality fruit picked at peak of ripeness, and is seasoned accordingly to carefully tested home-kitchen recipes.

Leading food chains and most neighborhood grocers carry the Comstock line.

heavily soiled work clothes. Set a control and the machine soaks the clothes, then automatically washes, rinses and spins them damp-dry. The automatic soak cycle can be used for laundering woollens, blankets and the finest Cashmere sweaters.

Busy Wedding Season Draws to Close

Miss Valerie Meyer

Couple to Exchange Promises

Roy W. Grunwaldt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Minard Grunwaldt, Black Creek, will claim Miss Valerie Jean Meyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Meyer, 1025 W. Hawes, as his bride at 4:30 p.m. today at the First Congregational church.

The double ring candlelight ceremony will be conducted by the Rev. H. Shelby Lee and Miss Sandra Welker, Wausau, will be honor attendant.

Bridesmaids are Miss Joyce Stephan, the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Donald Meyer, both of Appleton, and the bride's cousin, Miss Pauline Kersten, Posen, Ill. Flower girl is the bride's cousin, Betsy Jens, Owen, Wis.

Ronald Slevett, Black Creek, will be best man and groomsmen are the bridegroom's brother, James Grunwaldt, and his cousin, Steve Rohloff, both of Black Creek, and the bride's brother, Donald Meyer, Appleton.

Wedding guests will be shown to their places by the bride's brother, Robert Meyer, and the bridegroom's brother-in-law, Frederick Lemke, both of Appleton. Ring bearer is the bridegroom's brother, Jackie Grunwaldt, Black Creek.

A buffet supper, reception and dance will be held at the Menasha Elks club and after a week's honeymoon in Door county and northern Wisconsin, the couple will live in Whitewater.

Attending Summer School Not Always So Bad, Sisters Find

BY KATHLEEN REARDON
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Grave digging and attending art classes in Costa Rica added up to an eventful summer for Joan and Marilyn Saiberlich, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Saiberlich, 946 E. Commercial street.

Grave digging, however, was not the main pastime for the two girls — it was merely an opportunity that they did not want to pass up in their study of the pottery and art of Costa Rica.

Joan, a June graduate of the University of Wisconsin, is going to Alfred university near Rochester, N.Y., to do graduate work in art education. After school she would like to teach art in high school. Marilyn is a junior at Marilyn and Joan Saiberlich, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Saiberlich, 946 E. Commercial street, are shown here with some of the souvenirs they brought back from their stay in Costa Rica. The girls attended art classes in the country while visiting friends. Joan is holding a piece of pottery she purchased in Mexico.

of Indian textiles and a machete of which they are very proud. When the girls arrived in Costa Rica it was during the winter season and the weather was a bit on the cool side. A temperature average of 72 degrees called for wool dresses in the evening. While at San Jose, the capital city of Costa Rica, the girls stayed at a pension, which is comparable to a boarding house.

No Hay Fever
Joan, a hay fever sufferer, was quite impressed by the fact that all during her southern vacation she was not bothered by hay fever. However, once she landed in Chicago, she joined the ranks of the hay fever sufferers again.

The girls spent 10 days in Guatemala and three days in El Salvador. The Guatemalan markets, as well as the Costa Rican markets were the most exciting on the trip, said the sisters. There you can see the country people as they really are. Every day is market day, but one special day is set aside and everyone goes all out in their competition to sell the most. In the Guatemalan markets just fruits and vegetables are sold, but everything is sold in the Costa Rican markets. The girls used high speed film and brought back 22 boxes of slides to preserve their vacation.

They returned from their southern excursion August 23, just in time to get ready for school again.

Costa Rica, the girls agreed. There is not so much danger of pieces being copied and sold under a false title there. In Costa Rica the people need a permit to dig graves, and this the girls obtained through their friends. "You also need a pole and a sixth sense to discover the graves," the sisters said. On the top layer of the graves are river rocks, then broken pieces of pottery and finally the top soil. In the top soil pieces of jade, gold and pottery are buried. "The bones are always disintegrated so it really isn't as bad as it sounds," laughed the girls.

"It was amazing that the pottery survived as well as it did on the jungle floor," said Joan. "It is not glazed, just rubbed earthenware which is very crumbly to the touch." A lot of the natives engage in this pastime for they can reap quite a day's profit from such a venture. Small pieces, such as charms and figures, are sold from $1 to about $15. However, the rare pieces are valued at much more.

Besides bringing back many souvenirs of their trip, the girls bought 22 pieces of pre-Columbian Indian pottery. "Half of the fun was in the bargaining for items, the girls agreed. A woman followed me around all one morning with a tablecloth for which she wanted $3 and I wanted it for $2. Finally we compromised at $2.25," said Joan.

The girls also have pieces of Indian textiles and a machete of which they are very proud. When the girls arrived in Costa Rica it was during the winter season and the weather was a bit on the cool side. A temperature average of 72 degrees called for wool dresses in the evening. While at San Jose, the capital city of Costa Rica, the girls stayed at a pension, which is comparable to a boarding house.

Family Diary

When the Golden Dragon first came to stay at our house this summer it was a shock to all of us—except Bruce—of course. The fact that the bluish green hot rod belonged to a friend of his and was merely on loan for the vacation period eased our first appalled moments. It is indeed a strange vehicle. Its dominant feature is a leering dragon with golden coils painted round and round the body of the car.

Bruce has given it the tenderest care and has been very good about going for groceries and performing various other errands. The first time I saw the Dragon bearing all my children off to the swimming pool I had an uneasy feeling, but I became quite used to it.

Larry, the Dragon's rightful owner, returned with his family from the lake the week before school started and Bruce gave the car a last loving polish before taking it home. He was the most downcast and subdued boy I ever saw. Libby, also silent, helped Bruce while the younger children openly lamented. Even I, looking at the silly ominous thing standing by our curb for the last time, felt a twinge of nostalgic regret.

Larry's folks are sending him away to school," Bruce shouted. "He's going to sell the Dragon. He says I can have her for one hundred dollars."

Almost Dashes Off
I was barely able to restrain him from dashing off to the bank with his savings account book. "Wait," I said. "Wait until your father comes home."

John and I had a long and serious talk that night. Al-

Children Announce Plan to Save Dragon

By Jeannette Griffith

though we lack facts and figures to support our views we have a definite feeling that teen age boys have no business owning cars. We think it interferes with school work, contributes to social problems and is a financial drain.

We shunned a long argument with Bruce about going into all these points, especially as he lacks the experience necessary to understand the validity of most of them. We settled on the financial angle as being the most decisive and readily understood.

At breakfast the next morning we told Bruce that it was out of the question for him to take one hundred dollars—half of all the money he'd saved this summer—out of his college fund and spend it on a car. Bruce was crushed and the other children aghast, staring at John and me as if we were monsters. Their united stand at times, particularly when one of them is in trouble, can be a most unnerving matter.

Bruce and John went off to work, but all day long there were secret conferences and whisperings between Mitzi, Libby, Tommy and Sally that ceased when I came near. I felt like an outcast.

At dinner, Libby, the spokesman, announced that they had worked out a plan to save Bruce's car. Mitzi was selling for ten dollars her cashmere sweater to a friend who coveted it. Libby was contributing the sixteen dollars she had earned baby sitting. All the children would forego their allowances for the next three months. Tommy groaned at this. "And Sally," Libby went on with her report. She stopped and looked around. "Where is Sally?"

She was just coming in the door. In one hand she held her beloved china pig bank and in the other John's largest hammer. "I've got eighty-seven cents to save Bruce's car," she said, her eyes bright with held back tears.

John caught the little hand that held the upraised hammer just in time. He groaned. "You children are terrific," he said. "But I don't believe all this sacrifice is going to be necessary."

It's pretty plain that in trying to take the easy way out John and I bungled the whole business. At any rate the Golden Dragon is still with us. (Copyright, 1959)

Improper to Sell Photos To Guests

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married soon and have engaged a photographer to take pictures at the church and the wedding reception of the bridal party. The guests will be seated at small tables of 10 and the photographer suggested going around and taking pictures of each individual table so that the guests (if they wish) may order a picture of their own table to keep as a souvenir. I have never heard of this at a wedding and it sounds too commercial to me, but he says that he has done this at many weddings and the guests are always eager to have pictures. Will you please tell me if this would be in good taste. I would appreciate hearing from you on this matter.

Answer: I agree with you that having the photographer go around and take pictures of the individual tables and then taking order for them, sounds very commercial and is certainly not in good taste at a wedding.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-15, entitled, "Diners in Public," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E.P., care of this newspaper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Members of the Appleton chapter, American association of University Women have been busy soliciting and collecting books from members and outsiders for the group's book sale Oct. 15. # Your Problems

Fellows' Bleach Jobs Border On Feminine Prerogative

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This letter is being written by three teenagers. We were shocked to read in your column that a boy who bleaches his hair is "a jerk."

There are several swell guys in our crowd who streak their hair with ammonia and peroxide, and a couple of fellows have complete bleach jobs. We think it looks darling and can't see what you are yelping about.

Millions of girls bleach their hair and nobody thinks a thing of it. Why is it jerky for a fellow and not a girl? Please print your answer in the paper. A lot of us kids are mad at you. —YOUR ENEMIES

Dear Enemies: If you kids have the notion that anything that's O.K. for girls is O.K. for boys, we'd better have a long talk. How would you like to see the fellows in earrings and high heels? Each sex enjoys privileges accorded them by custom and convention. In my opinion, self-administered streaks, (not to mention complete bleach jobs) on male heads get too close to earrings and high-heels. —Your Friend—Ann Landers

DEAR ANN: I'm an only child, married just three weeks to a wonderful fellow. We rented a place a few doors down from my folks and are busy getting settled.

Mom and Dad want us to have dinner with them every night, either at our place or theirs. Dad has hung our pictures and mirrors, fixed the cupboards and tightened all the faucets and door knobs. My husband is annoyed because he wanted to do these things.

I'm torn between loyalty for my parents and love for my husband. My folks live just for me and I'd rather die than hurt their feelings.

He tells me his folks leave us alone (true) and mine should too. I see my husband's side but don't you think he's being too possessive. Please tell me what to do, Ann. I'm very unhappy. —Young Bride

Dear Bride: You'd better cut those apron strings, Little Girl, or they'll strangle your marriage. Two evenings a week with your folks is plenty. Your husband's complaints are valid and should not be tossed aside lightly. Moving a few doors down from your folks was a mistake. Correct it as soon as possible. With added distance between you and your parents you'll be able to be more independent.

Are you tempted to smoke because the crowd does? If so, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Teenage Smoking," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope. (Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.) (Copyright 1959)

Miss Alferi, John Rutten Recite Wedding Promises At Sacred Heart Church

Nuptial promises were repeated at 10 a.m. today at Sacred Heart Catholic church by Miss Eileen M. Alferi and John G. Rutten.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Alferi, 911 S. Kernan avenue, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Rutten, route 2, Menasha, were wed in a ceremony performed by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. E. J. Schmit.

Mr. Alferi gave his daughter in marriage and the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Joseph Stier, Jr., Menasha, was honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Miss Audrey LeClair, Best man for his sister's bridegroom was Gerald Alferi, Appleton, and groomsmen were Joseph Stier, Jr., and Henry Cops.

A noon dinner is being served at the Columbus club where a reception is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. today. The couple will have a short wedding trip before the bridegroom enters the armed forces.

The former Miss Alferi is a graduate of Appleton High school and is employed by the Home Mutual Insurance company. Her bridegroom attended schools in the Netherlands and works for the George Banta company.

Tile Holds Dust To Minimum

Allergy sufferers have a special interest in some of the main features of ceramic tile walls and floors, according to the Tile Council of America. Ceramic tile's ease of cleaning goes a long way toward holding dust content in the air to a minimum. This is, of course, a desirable condition in any home—and particularly so where a member of the family has especially uncomfortable reactions to dust.

Brides Should Know Good Sterling Care To Set a Pretty Table

Setting a pretty mealtime table is as important to the new bride as putting on a pretty face... and as rewarding psychologically. Coddling the "good" tabletop furnishings on some top shelf for "company", pampering them like a delicate figurine may have been Grandmother's way. Today, however, the modern homemaker has an entirely different point of view. Modern manufacturing processes have made fine tableware available to most homemakers. A century ago fine silver, crystal and china were usually found only in the homes of the wealthiest families. Today's lady of the house wants her family and guests to enjoy elegant tabletop furnishings every day.

Everyday use of silver is actually, the best possible way to care for it. The small, almost invisible scratches which come with daily use gradually blend together to form a lovely patina which beautifies the surface. When silverware—either sterling or plate—is used daily, it is worn to rotate the pieces so that each gets the same amount of wear. In this way, each piece is used and washed every few days, and light tarnish is quite easily removed in the frequent washing and wipe-polishing the silverware receives.

Salt and Acid Bad
It has been established that certain substances are primarily responsible for tarnish on sterling or silverplate and sulphur, salt and acid are the tarnish-forming culprits. It is further known that sunlight is an added factor which speeds up the action of these substances. Many tableware cleaning problems are practically solved by a knowledge of their causes and by avoiding them as much as possible.

For example, salt and fatty foods left on overnight can cause pits that are almost impossible to remove. Rubber, in sink mats or rubberbands, contain sulphur just as do eggs, mayonnaise, mustard and other food made with eggs; therefore, do not use a sink mat when washing silverware, and wash pieces used for foods containing sulphur or acid as soon after use as possible.

Remember too that tarnish can be avoided by wrapping seldom used pieces of silver tableware in tested, approved sulphur-free cloth or paper. Also, the practice of lining the silver drawer with tarnish-proof flannel will avoid scratches from contact with wood. An equally protective measure for hollowware is that of wrapping each individual piece in flannel.

Rinsing Important
Proper washing of silverware is simplicity itself: Rinse well immediately after use. Then wash all pieces as soon as possible in hot water and gentle suds. Rinse each piece with clean, scalding water and dry at once with a soft cloth. The silverware should be left to stand for a few minutes before being put away. The heat held by the sterling or silver plate will evaporate any moisture left after drying with the towel. If this method is used on a daily basis, tarnish formation will be reduced to an absolute minimum. Never rinse silverware in water and leave it to air dry, because the tarnish-forming elements in the air—particularly city, smoke-filled air—combined with light and moisture accelerate the tarnishing process. Spotting and streaking also often result from air-drying.

An occasional light polishing with a reliable silver polish—preferably a liquid polish—restores the lustre and maintains the beauty of the finish. Polish should be applied with a soft damp cloth in lengthwise strokes. Apply polish to reach places with a small, soft brush. Always avoid rubbing the areas of dark oxidation which were purposely placed in the design for contrast. Finally, wash in hot, sudsy water. Rinse, dry, and polish thoroughly with a soft, clean cloth.

Husband Careless
Although the new bride prizes her sterling or silverplate, often the new husband is not inclined to take the time for careful handling of silverware. He might easily use a dinner knife to cut the grapefruit or the dinner fork
